MISS WALTERIA

WALTERIA Business Men's Club Stage Annual Picnic

The WALTERIA Business Men's Club held their annual WALTERIA Picnic Sunday at the WALTERIA Park. And, it was generally agreed that the affair was enjoyed by young and old.

Parade Kickoff

The entire affair began with a parade which commenced at Newton Street and Highway 101, and wound its way to the WALTERIA Park. There in an atmosphere of fun and frolic, many games and events were in progress to be enjoyed by all.

Stringbean the clown was undoubtedly the most prominent character present as far as the children were concerned. He entertained with tricks of magic taken from his bag of surprises. Most local residents thrilled to seeing notables being dunked in a tank of water by baseball throwers who hit bulls-eyes which tripped the officials into the tank. And before the day was completed, many name personalities were cooled off in the tank.

The highlight of the event was the crowning of Miss WALTERIA. Don Matthews, president of the WALTERIA Businessmen's Club had the honors. Miss Mary Yoshioka won out over seven contestants. Her prizes included a Fall wardrobe, trophies and other gifts.

THREE TEACHERS JOIN STAFF AT EL CAMINO

Joining the faculty of the division of applied arts and sciences this fall at El Camino college will be William J. MacCabe, instructor of law; Robert C. Neice, art, and Phillip H. Seitz, accounting.

Working with Willis W. Weber, assistant director of instruction, the three will begin their classroom activities on September 16 when instruction starts at the local college.

Born in Long Beach, MacCabe resides in Wilmington with his wife and one child. He attended Long Beach City college, USC, George Washington university, where he received his BA, Loyola school of law in Los Angeles, where he gained his LL.B., Los Angeles State college, and San Jose State college.

The law instructor taught at Los Angeles City college for five years, for one year at the United States Navy Foreign Service school, and has conducted his own general law practice.

Neice will teach art. With his wife and two children, he makes his home in Lawndale. The Ohio native received his BA in art from Los Angeles State college, where he was also awarded the MA in art education. He also studied at LA City college, and at the Art Center school.

A designer and draftsman in industry, Neice designed and installed the California State Fair Art show in 1953. He taught previously at Manual Arts and Gardena high schools and at USC, where he instructed in set construction.

Another Ohio native, Seitz now lives in Lynwood. He is married and has two children. An accounting teacher, he has experience as a market research analyst and in other fields of business.

Seitz received his bachelor and master's degrees at UCLA and has taught at Monterey high school, Pacific Grove Evening Adult school, and the University of Alaska.
