ALL CLARK MARKETS BEGIN BIG SALES event today. Clark officials said the object of the sale is to reduce inventory values by at least two million dollars. Big price reductions in all departments will achieve this goal, Clark officials predicted. A three-page Clark ad covering the spectacular two-million dollar inventory food sale can be found elsewhere in this paper.

El Camino Enrollment Rises To Record High of 9,583

Surpassing registration records of last fall by more than 1400, enrollment at El Camino College now stands at 9,583, Leo M. Christian, assistant director of student personnel, announced today.

Noted in the registration trend for the fall semester is the fact that full-time enrollments have increased sharply while part-time enrollments have dropped off. The college offers no adult education program, but extends its regular day-time college program into the evening hours to accommodate the greatest number of students.

Full-time instructors at El Camino now number 202, President Forrest G. Murdock states. Of these, 27 are new to the college this year.

New instructors whose names have not been released publicly are Miss Barbara J. Klingheim, Dr. Arthur J. Anderson, Dr. Helmut Bader, Walter R. Noke, Myron G. Pelsinger, Lloyd L. Brown, James A. Campbell, George S. Ingersoll, Norman E. Leer, Mrs. Jeanne A. McLeod, Mark Jacobs, and Wayne E. Hilton.

Mr. Hilton, an instructor in electronics, resides in Rolling Hills and comes to El Camino from Torrance High School. Born in Gary, Ind., he received his college education in California, obtaining his bachelor of arts degree in electricity and radio at the University of California at Santa Barbara and his master of science in education at the University of Southern California. He is married and has worked as an engineer in the aircraft industry.

Coming to El Camino from Newport Harbor Union High

School, where he taught for two years, is Mr. Pelsinger, who now resides with his wife in Torrance. An instructor in history, he attended Long Beach City College, Stanford University, and Long Beach State College, where he received both his AB and MA degrees in history. He has also served as a life guard and coach.

Approve $40,000 Water Main

Construction of a $40,000 water main from the Palos Verdes feeder line at Walnut st. and Pacific Coast Highway was authorized by the City Council at its meeting Tuesday night. The line will connect up with the Torrance system when it is completed by the Metropolitan Water District sometime this winter, City Attorney Stanley E. Remelmeyer told city officials.
