Letters to The Editor

To the Editor:

We are glad the county finally decided on just one plot of ground for the Civic Center for three years people in Lomita were held in suspense as to which parcels would be needed out of three different surveys. We wrote Supervisor Chace and contacted his deputies on numerous occasions. Finally last spring we invited the Civic League, Lomita Chamber of Commerce, Junior Chamber and any other group interested to meet with Mr. Chace to discuss and pin point the area if the county was going to put the Civic Center in Lomita. Mr. Chace sent his two deputies, Mr. Newton and Mr. Winters. Six months later after more letters, phone calls by our group and the Lomita Chamber we have our answer.

We are happy for the cooperation of the Chamber in joining our 8 year fight to get low flying away from homes in Lomita and cooperating in asking for state legislation, to establish responsibility of air craft in case of accidents.

We also are glad they backed us up in our efforts to have Walnut north of Lomita Blvd. properly surfaced and drive ways properly replaced. The property owners in the area even had Assemblyman Vincent Thomas to join in the effort to get it finished and we are glad 242 will no longer be dangerous to drive due to an 18" drop from road to curb where curbs had been put in.

Cooperation always succeeds working together would get more for Lomita. Let's all work for another year of quiet progress. Our community is a quiet oasis in the busy turmoil of factories and traffic.

Editor:

Thursday Evening, October 2, I will turn over the gavel, officially, to our newly elected president, Mrs. Margaret Clark, 3211 West 166 st. It will conclude an interesting and eventful year.

The press plays a most important part in any civic undertakings. You have clearly demonstrated your interest in keeping our citizens informed through your wide coverage of news.

In behalf of our organization, I want to thank you for the splendid work you have carried on and the full cooperation you have given our publicity releases.

Very truly yours
JOHN G. L. CRAIN
President.
