Search Begins for New 'Miss Torrance' Contenders

Entry blanks are now available for the sixth annual Miss Torrance contest according to James Van Dyck, Director of the Torrance Area Youth Band. Van Dyck said that this year's beauty pageant, slated for Dec. 6 at the Civic Auditorium, is sponsored by his organization in cooperation with the Torrance Chamber of Commerce. Entry blanks are available now at the Chamber office, 1345 El Prado.

The winner of the contest will be crowned "Miss Torrance" and will act as official hostess at all civic functions for one year. She will represent the City of Torrance on the float in the Tournament of Roses Parade on Jan. 1 and will receive a huge trophy plus other prizes, including two tickets to the Rose Bowl football game.

Youth Sued For $400,000

croft Lane, as he came to the girl's assistance.
Henderson, who ran away from his Colorado Springs home, driving his stepfather's car, was apprehended an hour later after he changed his clothes and dyed his hair.
The suit filed in behalf of his alleged victim asks general and punitive damages, and asserts that his parents knew he had a "mean, brutal, excitable disposition, coupled with a violent temper."

Garage Hit Twice

Two motorists hitting his garage on the same day was just a little bit too much for O. F. Salisbury, of 18315 Ashley Ave., he complained to police.
He said his garage was hit twice the same day on Friday. His fence has been mowed down three times in the past by cars, the resident added.
