North High Lights

By Rosalie Murray

As Homecoming time approaches, Saxons on campus are frantically rushing to meet the eventful Nov. 15 deadline. Activities, such as noon dances, pep rallies, and competitive contests, will begin next Monday and continue throughout the week to build spirit for the annual occasion.

In charge of Homecoming this year is Commissioner of Activities Nancy Mooney. Working under her are Associated Student Body Vice President Ken Weeks, and Chairmen Bob Halliwell, Pregame Parade; Barbara Thomas, Queen's Tea; Patty Reynolds, Coronation Ball; Sonja Pesola, week activities; Margaret Owen, tickets; and Rosalie Murray, publicity.

Grid Queen

North High School "Top 15" candidates for Homecoming Queen were honored with letters of congratulations and turquoise blue and white ribbon corsages last Monday. Further eliminations are scheduled for tomorrow when the Student Body will pick the "Top 5" finalists. These five girls will serve as the Royal Court with the "fairest of the fair" being deemed Queen.

Saxons will again get a chance to cheer-it-up as the North High School Pep Squad and band stage another noon Pep Rally to incite a large turn out at the Saxon-Monarch Varsity football clash at Morningside High School. The Monarchs have a powerful reputation for being rough to beat, but with high spirit, and the fine playing of Ernie Thomson, Jim Laird, Church Webb, and George Foutts, our Varsity should put up a great fight.

Honors Bestowed

Varsity football player Chuck Webb has been named North High School sports personality of the month for his outstanding athletic ability and sportmanlike conduct.

Named November Girl of the Month, Patty Reynolds is a spirited Saxon who has done much for her school.

Each title is bestowed monthly by the Boys and Girls League respectively to bring worthy Saxons into the campus eye.

North High Bees trounced El Segundo, 7-0 recently in what everyone on campus considered the toughest game of the season. Roy Bohner rushed into the end zone for the all-important touchdown, while Jerry Caruthers made the extra point on a quarterback sneak.

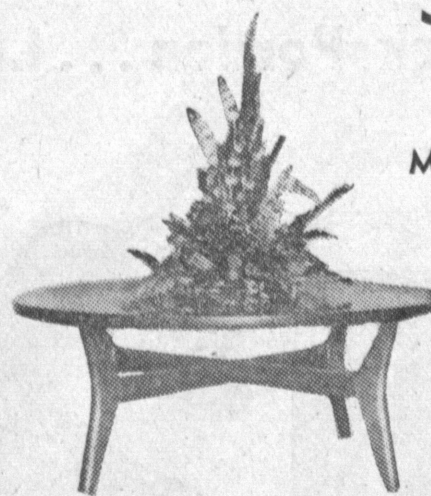

Student Representative Assembly, the North High House of Representatives, held their bi-monthly meeting on Monday, to watch the Student Council in action. Designed to bring students into closer contact with school government, this large body contains one member from each double period class.

SQUARE DANCE

Invitations have been extended to all square dancers to attend the 5th anniversary celebration dance of the Swingin' B's. The event begins at 8 p.m. in Sportman's Park Auditorium, Western Ave. and Century Blvd., Nov. 15.
