More U.S. Aid Sought for SHS, West High School

The Torrance Unified School District will seek an additional $1,900,000 in federal funds to help with its building program.

The Board of Education Tuesday approved teh application, which seeks federal help for the final unit of South High and the first unit of West High School, which will be built within a year or two.

To date, the district has received $2,370,000 in federal funds for the construction of South High School. Under public Law 815, school districts are eligible to get federal agency money for help in building if federally-connected industries have brought an influx of new workers (and their children) to a town.

Dr. Warren Hamilton, director of special services, told the board that he was not certain the government would approve the request, "but it's certainly worth
