Lack of Recreation Here Hit

Shortage of Torrance park facilities were pointed up this week in a resolution by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The resolution, presented to the City Council, calls on all residents to join in "actively working and campaigning for the needed park and recreation facilities."

The document points out that the number and size of present parks and recreational facilities are not adequate for the size of Torrance.

The resolution, signed by President Robert C. Bartz, does not specify action to be taken to solve the problem but merely urges residents to work for improvements.
