Hollywood Riviera Man New El Camino College Advisor

"My counselor is Green!" This statement by an incoming freshman of El Camino College serves as a compliment rather than a derogatory remark.

While true that Donald C. Green is among the newest of the ECC counselors, it is equally true that his name is a reflection of one of his many talents. Though new to the advisory staff, the El Camino instructor is a veteran in teaching the arts on the college campus.

Arriving in the area in 1947, Green of Torrance came to the campus as an instructor in speech and dramatics. Following a successful teaching career in these fields, he shifted allegiance to the art department, where he will continue to teach courses in art structure and water color painting this fall along with his counseling program.

Former students of the colorful and color-loving Green are now active in the field of art, some of them art teachers.

The instructor joined the counseling staff at mid-semester last winter, filling the temporary vacancy left by Norman Scarlett, who left the campus for a semester's sabbatical leave while completing work for his doctorate. With the continued growth of the college, Green was appointed to the permanent counseling staff this spring.

A native of Spokane, Wash., the instructor has studied and taught on both seaboard. He received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of California at Los Angeles, later completing work for his masters at Teachers College, Columbia University, New York City. He has also studied at the Art Center and at the University of Southern California.

Before coming to El Camino, Green taught at Garden City High School, New York; Black Foxe Military Institute of Hollywood; Fresno State College and Redondo Beach Union High School.
