'Choir Dedication' Program Set at Local Church

The choirs of the South Bay Church of God will be heard in a special "choir dedication" program this evening at 7:30 p.m. in the church sanctuary, 17661 Yukon Ave.

Voices of the Chancel, adult; Concord, youth; Clarion, junior, and Carol, primary departments, will sing both combined and individually under the direction of LaWanda White.

At a recent choir business session, the following officers and chairmen were elected: Pat Marks, president; Arthur Lamb, vice-president and assistant director; Mary Jonas, secretary and

Dr. Vanek to Speak to Sisterhood

Dr. Zdenek Vanek will speak on "Marriage—The Psychoanalytic Viewpoint and the Judaic Tradition" when he addresses the Temple Menorah Sisterhood at its first luncheon meeting of the year tomorrow.

The meeting will be held at the Temple, 112 N. Catalina

Dr. Vanek was born in Europe and educated at the Charles University before coming to the United States.

He received his B.S., M.A. and Ph.D in clinical psychology from New York University.

Presently in private practice in Redondo Beach, he worked at the Gateways Sanatorium and was a clinical psychologist for the Veterans Administration for three years. He is a member of the American Psychological Association.

DINNER GUESTS
Mr. and Mrs. Max E. Boyer of Hollywood Riviera were recent dinner guests at the Polynesian Restaurant in Torrance.

MRS. MARY ANAGNOSTIS

Local Woman to Lead Liberal Arts Course

In man's search for reality, for definition of his place in the universe, he turns to the philosophers for answers.

So says Mrs. Mary Anagnostis, of Torrance who will be the instructor for a Liberal Arts lecture-discussion group which University of California Extension is organizing in Westchester.

One of some 100 such groups planned by the university this fall, this one will study "Main Currents in Philosophy" at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Mudrick, 7425 Arizona Ave., beginning Oct. 6 at 8 p. m.

Mrs. Anagnostis is instructor in philosophy at El Camino College and formerly was instructor in philosophy at Santa Barbara Junior College. Her course, during 10 weekly meetings, will present the types of philosophy which attempt to give meaning to man's existence.

Fee for the local group membership, which includes one complete set of study materials, is $14 for an individual or $20 for a married couple.

Participants in this program do not need a college background. There are no speakers. Sessions are limited to 25 and are strictly for discussion, led by a trained member of the group or in the case of numerous more advanced lecture-discussion groups, a qualified academic lecturer.

BE A CHAMP
"Be a champ in the eyes of your child and a sport in the eyes of your school," is the slogan chosen for the Carl Steele PTA membership drive.

Yankee Doodle Noodles to Lead Week's Menu

Menus in Torrance elementary schools next week (Oct. 5-9) will start off on a patriotic note, with Yankee Doodle Noodles on Monday.

Meals, planned by trained dietitians, cost 30 cents. Ice cream bars cost six cents. Those who bring lunches can buy milk for four cents, as well as ice cream.

The week's menus include:
Monday—Yankee Doodle Noodles, buttered spinach, hot french bread, peanut butter stuffed celery, fruit in syrup, 1/2 pint milk.
Tuesday—Hamburger on a bun with mustard relish, escalloped tomatoes, finger relishes, rosy pears in syrup, 1/2 pint milk.
Wednesday—Spanish rice, oriental celery, jellied apple sauce salad, hot cornbread sticks, orange juice bar, 1/2 pint milk.
Thursday—Turkey 'n Gravy, fluffy mashed potatoes, tossed green salad, wheat bread & butter sandwiches, pumpkin custard, 1/2 pint milk.
Friday—Macaroni & Cheese, buttered garden peas, top hat tomato salad, Raisin bread & butter, cherry torte, 1/2 pint milk.

Seaside Church Communion

Seaside Community Church will celebrate World Wide Communion today.

Rev. William K. Schatz will deliver a communion meditation and new members will be received at the 10:45 worship service.

During the morning worship service the church school teachers will be commissioned for the new year.

The teachers are as follows: Yula Costa, kindergarten; Betty Thompson and Pat Vint, primary; Mrs. Marydell Rendon, lower junior; Ardene Hunter, juniors; Mrs. Julie Brandsford, junior high; Richard Evans, senior high and Pastor Schatz, adult class.
