Lions Take Blind Children to Party

Milt Pagel, assistant manager of California Bank here, yesterday was chairman of the Lions Club transportation committee taking a group children to the Blind Foundation in Los Angeles. Yesterday a half-dozen Torrance blind youngsters joined about 200 others from the Los Angeles area for a Halloween costume carnival. The Lions provided a donation to buy prizes for which the children competed.

Homecoming Queen Endures Exhausting School Schedule

Popular, bouncy Linda Williams, Torrance High senior, Friday cried for joy with the remainder of the contestants when she was announced as homecoming queen.
 Linda will reign over the Torrance-Aviation game Friday, along with her court of princesses.
 Miss Williams is surviving an exhausting schedule as commissioner of pep, cheer leader, and a member of the Tartar Ladies and Tri Hi Y. When not engaged with homework, she is practicing cheer leading after school.
 Prior to her senior year she was Girls' League representative, active in the Thespians, and was vice president and posture-contest winner in the freshman class.
 The entire student body voted in the election that made Linda queen and the most popular girl in school.
 Her favorite past time is swimming, which has been a life saver, as the Youth Honor Day award (Page 1) attests.
 Miss Williams, daughter of Harry Parks Williams, foreman at Barrington Welding and Machine Works, and Mrs. Williams, lives at 1507 Acacia Ave.
 She plans to enter El Camino next year and continue as a business major.

Selections were based on final exams for the first and second semesters.
