

Chicken With A Cherry Glow

Lots of people keep foods in niches—chicken in a fricassee, cherries in a pie. But the people who really enjoy good eating are the ones who experiment once in a while and thereby discover the exciting variations which keep their menus sparkling. Chicken Cerise is a dish for the more adventuresome food lovers. It's a casserole of chicken-steeped in a cherry-pineapple sauce, adding a sweet-sour accent and a rosy hue to a favorite meat. Nobody is surprised at chicken and cranberry sauce or at roast duckling with a cherry sauce. Before long chicken with a cherry sauce will be equally favored. Start with a favorite plentiful food, a broiler-fryer, cut in pieces and browned. Then use a one-pound can of tart red cherries to make a spicy cherry sauce in which to simmer the chicken. Surround with a rice ring for an elegant main dish.

Chicken Cerise

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1 can (1 pound) red sour pitted cherries (water pack) | 1/2 teaspoon each, allspice, cinnamon and dry mustard |
| 1 broiler-fryer chicken, cut in pieces | 1 can (9 ounces) crushed pineapple |
| 3 tablespoons butter or margarine | 1 chicken bouillon cube |
| 1 tablespoon flour | 1/4 teaspoon red food coloring |
| 1/2 teaspoon salt | 3 cups hot cooked rice |
| 1 teaspoon sugar | |

Drain cherries; reserve liquid. Sprinkle chicken with salt, pepper and paprika. Melt butter in skillet; add chicken and brown well on all sides. Remove chicken. Blend flour, salt, sugar and spices in drippings in skillet. Gradually stir in cherry liquid; add crushed pineapple, bouillon cube and red food coloring. Add chicken. Cover; simmer 40 minutes, or until chicken is tender. Add drained cherries last 5 minutes cooking time. To serve, place chicken in center of serving platter; spoon some of the sauce over chicken. Surround with hot cooked rice. If desired, sprinkle rice with finely chopped parsley and toasted slivered almonds. Serve with remaining sauce. YIELD: 4 servings.
