

MRS. DAVID L. BANKARD

—Photo by Seeman

Marlys Egelund Wed In Double-Ring Rite

Against a motif of pine and white gladioluses Marlys Marie Egelund became the bride of David L. Bankard in a double-ring ceremony Dec. 29 in the Reorganized Church of Latter Day Saints, Wilmington. The Rev. Sid Sheldon officiated.

The new Mrs. Bankard is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lloyd Egelund, 1712 W. 240 St., Lomita. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Bankard, 22812 Broadwell Ave.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride-elect wore a gown of lace and net featuring a Queen Anne neckline and wrist-length sleeves. A Juliette cap of pearls adorned in coral silk marquisette over taffeta.

Mrs. Egelund, mother of the bride, wore rose lace over taffeta with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother was in a black sheath with matching jacket.

Terry Albaugh served as best man. Ushers were Mike Pinder, Ray Burison, and Ken Todd. Following the service the new couple welcomed guests to a reception and sequins secured her fingertip veil. She carried an all-white bouquet of orchids, roses and hyacinths.

Miss Lonna Albough was maid of honor. Shari Chasteen and Pat Pinder were bridesmaids and Joyce Egelund, 12, was her sister's junior bridesmaid. All were reception at the bride's residence.

Mrs. Bankard is a graduate of Narbonne High School. Her husband also attended Narbonne High and is now a PFC in the U.S. Marine Corps.

After a short wedding trip to Las Vegas, they plan to live in Carlsbad where Bankard is stationed.

Roses to Be Topic at Fuchsia Event

The Torrance Fuchsia Society will welcome Fred A. Gilley as its guest speaker Jan. 12 at 7:30 p.m. in McManis Hall, 174 St. and Yukon Ave. Gilley, an employee of the California Spray Co., will discuss roses. His address will coincide with a film entitled "How to Grow Beautiful Roses."

Mrs. Stephen Boyko is program chairman; Frank Hinkel is president. Interested persons are invited to attend.

Tip to Toe

By Sylvia Miller

Fashion Editor

A New Year, a New You!

We give thanks to Julius Caesar, originator of January 1st as the beginning of each new year. If January were just the middle of the year, as by all logic it should be, what a dreary time it would be!

Instead, at mid-winter, we get a chance to think of spring, of blossoming, of new ways to beauty and freshness. At least we get that chance once the holiday madness is over, children tucked safely back in school, and deliciously normal routines resumed.

Pundits with typewriters also get a chance to make wise predictions that nobody will have the time or energy to check on six months from now. Magazine and newspaper columns are filled with infallible prophecies. The sixties will be scintillating, superior, super or sopping, depending on which publication you read.

We have no crystal ball, but we fearlessly make our future fashion forecasts just the same. What's in store for style in 1960?

We show you frocks for resort and spring... they'll be turning up shortly in your favorite shops. Not terribly startling, they're classics with a difference. Watch particularly for widened skirts, usually gone cut, to fall gracefully and without petticoats. The fashion idea for 1960, daytime, is figure defining without constriction.

Watch too, for continued top interest... important collars, dolman sleeves, bell sleeves, cape sleeves. Simple bateau or jewel neck dresses should be heavily necklaced, an easy fashion trick since fabulous costume jewelry will be better than ever.

For evening, the picture will be more exciting.

As shadows lengthen so do skirts, with necklines plunging right after. Strapless gowns will be left for strictly formal events, but cocktail, hostess and dance frocks should show as much décolleté as the law and your husband allow.

As clothes grow simpler and necklines lower, more attention is called to face and hair.

Hair will be worn longer, either in the smooth, uncurled, long bob of the thirties, or the smooth, rounded on the side, high on top coil of the early 1900's.

And we're willing to bet that the exaggerated eye make-up of the fifties is a thing of the unlamented past. The clean, clear, finished look is what the female face will wear.

Since the California Fashion Creators will soon hold annual market week in Los Angeles, we'll know shortly how accurate our prophecies are. We'll be reporting the shows to you hot from the Ambassador... all the styles for spring and summer of this super-terrific 1960, year of feminine grace.

May you have a full year of happiness and prettiness... from tip to toe!

for and about Women

Joan Briggs, Women's Editor

Telephone FAirfax 8-2345

Woman of the Year Candidate

Paul Pulvers Celebrate 32nd Wedding Date

Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Pulver, 1036 W. 220 St., observed their 32nd wedding anniversary Tuesday at a quiet celebration in their home.

Mrs. Pulver is the former Treva Lenore Palmer of Paris, Calif. She met her husband, a native New Yorker, Nov. 11, 1927 on a San Pedro streetcar, while returning from an Armistice Day dance.

The couple were married Jan. 5, 1928 in Santa Ana.

Residents of Torrance for the past eight years, they have five children and nine grandchildren.

Seen at Polynesian

Stars of the Torrance Social Set seem welcoming the New Year at the Polynesian were Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Rich, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Seharper, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kling.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Padilla and Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Ludkins.

Bake Sale Slated

St. Joan's Guild of the Women's Council of St. Philomena's Church will sponsor a bake sale Sunday following morning mass. The event will take place in front of the church, 21900 Main St. Celia Ferrera and Bernice Kolmeyer are chairmen.

Mrs. Kenneth McVey First Nominee of 1960

Torrance, in the past 10 years, has grown from a small home town community of 22,201 to a sprawling metropolis of over 100,000. One of the people largely responsible for encouraging and directing this growth into a city we can all be proud of is Mrs. Kenneth W. McVey, first weekly winner of the new year for the Torrance Woman of the Year award.

Among her friends and acquaintances, Naomi McVey is considered something of a phenomenon. While serving as president of the Torrance Council PTA, vice-chairman of the Konya, City-to-City Association, secretary to the Torrance Educational Advisory Committee, and city commissioner of recreation and parks, to name only a few of the posts she has occupied during the past year, Mrs. McVey still finds time to cook her husband's favorite dishes and listen to the problems and aspirations of her three children.

A petite brunette with sparkling brown eyes, she passes all compliments on to her family. "They're wonderfully understanding," she boasts. "They realize that I'm doing some good in a small way and they're all willing to help."

"I believe that it's good training for the children. They've become more aware of being part of a community and the various ways people in a community can help one another."

PTA Favorite Post

Perhaps the interest of her family is the reason Mrs. McVey prefers work with the PTA to all other posts she has held. "I find it more of a challenge," she explains. "And I feel that Torrance has one of the finest school systems I've ever known."

"Last year while I was council president we organized five new PTAs in the city school system which will give you some idea of how fast Torrance is growing. However, I think we are managing to keep up with that growth."

"I'm happy too, that our teachers are recruited from all over the country. It gives a broader aspect to their work."

Konya Enthusiasts Another activity that brings a quick gleam of enthusiasm to Mrs. McVey's dark eyes is her post on the Konya City-to-City program.

One of the founders of the project two years ago, she states, "International communication is one of the best ways I know to

JUNIORS SLATE CANCER FILM WEDNESDAY

The Torrance Juniors Women's Club will show an educational film released by the American Cancer Society at its meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the clubhouse, 1422 Engracia Ave.

Entitled "Time and Two Women," the film will deal with cancer of the uterus and the possibilities of eliminating it with annual cytological check-ups. Joe V. Meigs, M.D., gynecologist at the Massachusetts General Hospital, is narrator.

Interested persons are invited to attend.

YW to Sponsor Bus Conference

The Harbor Area YWCA will sponsor a Conference Caravan Jan. 15 to enable members to visit and become acquainted with activities in various YW branches.

The group will meet 10 a.m. at the Torrance branch, 1432 Engracia Ave. Mrs. H. E. Mudgett will lead the devotions and a discussion of the goals and activities of the YW-Wives will follow.

Lunch will be served at the Wilmington Y where participants will hear an address on YW finances.

Last stop on the agenda will be the San Pedro branch. Members will discuss the orientation of new citizens in our communities and hear a lecture entitled "The Why of the Y" by Elsa Morris.

Traveling by bus, the group will return to Torrance by 8 p.m.

The event was planned by the Volunteer Leadership Committee, directed by Mrs. F. Harold Esert.

Cost per person is $1; baby sitting will be provided by St. Andrews Episcopal Church, Torrance. For reservations members are being requested to contact their local Y branch.

CPA to Address Democratic Club

The Torrance Democratic Club will hear an address by noted tax authority, Dean Verden CPA, at a meeting Jan. 14 in the home of Roger West, president, 21710 Vicky Ave.

Verden will discuss present Federal tax inequities and prospects for revision in the next congress.

Recently the group elected its officers for 1960. Taking office with West were Rose Craig, vice president; Jess Dean, treasurer; Junette West, executive secretary; and John Rounsefell, recording secretary.

FASHION FORECAST FOR '60

PERKY AND BRIGHT—A dramatic black and white design in pure silk shantung by Jerry Grinel for Murray of California.

EARLY SPRING—Just the thing for a March day by Vago Jrs. Fashioned in beige rayon and silk tweed with goblet shaped skirt.

REFRESHING APPEAL—In these classic separates of coral and white you're bound to attract attention, by Eddy George.

TASTY TIDBIT—This easy-to-wear cotton botanical print is just the touch to start the new year right, by Pat of California.