Travel Greatest Peace Passport, Speaker Says

"Understanding through travel is our greatest passport to peace," said Robert William Lyons in a speech before the Women's Club, District 18, CFWC, Wednesday.

Lyons, speaking of his experiences as leader of the Young Democratic Club of America at the recent East Berlin Peace Festival, told members that our greatest danger was not communism but the indifference and reluctance of the American people to take an interest in foreign affairs.

His lecture was accompanied with color slides of the two million young people from all parts of the world who attended the conference.

Following the address, members enjoyed a silver tea and viewed an exhibition of oils by George Csengeri, M.D.

Csengeri, a doctor at Harbor General Medical Clinic, has studied art at USC, El Camino, and the Choinard Institute. His work has appeared in the Raymond Duncan Galleries in Paris, the National Academy of Design in New York, and the Ligoa Duncan Galleries, New York.

Dr. Csengeri paintings will continue to be on display at the clubhouse during the next two weeks.

Plans were made by the group to participate in a KTYM radio program.

The next meeting of the club will feature a demonstration of Merle Norman Costmetics at the Merle Norman showroom, 1104 Crenshaw on Jan. 19 at 8 p.m.

Bob Baker's colorful marionettes will be featured at the Riverside County Fair and National Date Festival at Indio, Feb. 12th through 22nd.

Leap Year

Proposals Ancient

Scot Customs

It's Leap Year again . . . and you can blame the Scots for declaring it open season on bachelors.

They probably saw the custom of letting a woman pop the question as a way to put money in the treasury and take spinsters off the welfare rolls.

According to the research of World Book Encyclopedia, Scotland is said to have decreed in 1288 that ladies "of bothe high and lowe estate" shall have the privilege of proposing during leap years.

If a man refused the offer, he was fined as much as one pound . . . unless he could show that another woman had a prior claim on his affections.

The ladies, however, had to give fair warning that they were out to catch a man. If the edge of a scarlet flannel petticoat wasn't clearly visible, a man was absolved from paying the forfeit.

France reportedly passed a similar law, and the ladies of Florence and Genoa are said to have been given the privilege before Columbus sailed to America.

The gallant English supposedly didn't need a law to make them give the fair but single sex a break.

Meal Planners' Delight—Chicken

Move the favorite Chicken Barbecue indoors for meal ease. Barbecued Chicken atop snowy rice and red beans—a flavorful "3" in the broiler pan. Hearty satisfaction for Fall appetites! Easy, different, economical! Serve with crisp green salad and beverage.

2 broiler-fryers, about 2½ lb. split lengthwise

3 cups cooked rice (1 cup uncooked)

1 can (1 lb.) red beans, drained

Sauces: ¼ cup butter or margarine, melted

1 cup white vinegar

2½ tablespoons salt

¼ cup brown sugar, packed

¼ teaspoon cayenne

Place chicken in bottom of broiler pan (do not use rack), skin side down. Hook wing tips onto back behind shoulder joint to expose to heat. Meanwhile blend Sauce ingredients and mix to simmering. Brush chicken with hot Sauce. Place pan 7 to 9 inches from heat. (Regulate distance or heat so that chicken just begins to brown after 15 minutes.) Broil, turning after 15 minutes. Baste frequently with the hot Sauce. Turn occasionally to cook and brown evenly. Total cooking time—about 1 hour.

When chicken is almost done, set it aside, pour off juices and reserve for serving at table. Combine cooked rice and beans. Continue broiling and basting with Sauce until chicken is well done. (Leg bone twists readily in thigh joint. Test wing joint the same way.) Makes 4 to 6 servings.

MOVE MAPPED—Captain Errett Greer of the California Highway Patrol explains the proposed move of the Patrol Headquarters from Compton to the Torrance area. A colleague, Torrance's own Chief of Police Percy Bennett, listens with interest. The two law enforcement agencies have long enjoyed the most excellent relations.

Highway Patrol Plans Transfer

California Highway Patrol officers announced today that plans call for moving CHP headquarters from Compton to the vicinity of Torrance by Sept. 1.

While the exact location of the new, modern building will not be learned until Jan. 14, when bids from private lease contractors are opened, Captain Errett Greer said that the desired location is near the San Diego-Artesia freeways.

Greer, commander of the Los Angeles area Patrol headquarters, indicated that this will mean moving some 108 patrolmen, 9 sergeants, 9 clerks, several lieutenants, and one captain to the new Torrance base of operations.

Central Location

Several reasons motivate the change, according to Captain Greer. One is that the present area headquarters in Compton is much too small for the current strength. Night watch sergeants are often forced to hold roll-call outside of the building for lack of space.

Another cogent reason is the need for a location more central to the freeway system. Patrol authorities feel that the San Diego-Artesia freeway site will provide readier and quicker access to that freeway complex.

Five Year Lease

The State prefers to lease such buildings, Greer explained. Instead, the State furnishes general specifications and a rough layout of the new building. Then private investors bid for the right to buy the land and construct the building in return for a guaranteed five year lease from the State of California with an additional five year option.

In this fashion, the property remains on the tax rolls, the Highway Patrol is free to seek more suitable quarters should the need arise, and the private investor adds to the capital wealth of the state.

Since at least an acre of ground will be required, said Greer, purchased in a high cost area, plus the expense of erecting a modern building, the initial cost will be great.

Private estimates place the cost in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The Department of Motor Vehicles will occupy the structure abandoned by the CHP in Compton.

Blasts Meters

To the Editor:

The councilman who said that he saw Meterettes wait for the meters to show overtime parking was absolutely correct. I've seen them do that myself.

Personally, I think this is outrageous. It's not enough that the meters are there and parking is so terrible but now you can get tickets for just 30 seconds of overtime parking.

What I want to know is, haven't those girls got anything better to do than to just stand around and wait for the red flag to go up? — (Name withheld on request).
