Mrs. Bisou Named Award Candidate

"Anything that concerns children interests me" said Mrs. Louis Bisou, final candidate for the Torrance Woman of the Year award.

A chic, sophisticated brunette, Mrs. Bisou, despite a family of three teenagers and her job at Sav-On Drugs, still manages to find time to serve her community whether it be in PTA work, the March of Dimes campaign, or as a recreation commissioner on the civic center promotion committee.

Eva Bisou admits that her primary interest is young people. "I'm for youth," she laughed. "I think it's a wonderful age and I've never met a child I didn't believe in."

As juvenile and safety chairman of the Carl Steele PTA, Mrs. Bisou's concern of the moment is the bicycle safety program. She explained the problem as a post-Christmas hazard. "So many children received bicycles during the holidays," she said. "And many parents failed to accompany the gift with instructions in operating it.

"As part of our program, we plan to present a series of lectures on safe driving for the children, and conclude with an obstacle test course."

"We are also trying to get the city council to issue bicycle licenses," she added.

As a recreation commissioner, Mrs. Bisou is again on the side of youth. "We hope to develop 15 acres," she stated. "We plan to include tennis courts, a swimming pool, and a teen center."

"I believe that young people who have plenty of good things to do will have no time for the bad," she added. "And I think the community should share with (Continued on Page B-2)

Tip to Toe

By Sylvia Miller

"Be kind, fair maid, and let who will be clever." That old verse is the password for 1960, girls. The look is soft, gentle, lady-like . . . from hats, to frocks, to shoes, to hair-does.

In fact, says the National Hairdresser and Cosmetologists Association, "Hair will be dressed in a natural flow of soft draped waves, drifting with its natural growth direction."

So take out the poufs, pull down the high piled crown and relax, fair lady. Any fullness in the silhouette must be natural and adaptable, lest we look like last year's leftovers.

How do these drastic changes in hair fashions come about? Who puts in long hours trying to figure out how madame should look each year or each season?

Hard to answer . . . but one clue is that hair styles usually follow dress styles. Cropped hair and knee-length skirts were go-togethers of the 20's. Long, slim skirts and long, sleek hair was the hallmark of the 30's; padded shoulders and towering coifs belonged to the 40's.

So we begin the 60's in compromising mood. Skirts are short but not shocking. Colors are bright but not blazing. Shapes are diverse but not daring. And so goes the hair.

Elegant simplicity in hair cut and set will give you the well groomed look all lovely ladies should have . . . from tip to toe!

"Proceeds derived from admission donations of 50 cents per person," according to Britt and William Griep, dance committee chairman, "will be presented to the Torrance chapter of the March of Dimes." The money will be used by the National Foundation for further research in the fields of polio, arthritis, and birth-defects.

Music for program will be provided by Tom Ulrich and his orchestra. Three door prizes will be awarded during the evening.
