"I do nothing but go about persuading you all, old and young alike, not to take thought for your persons or your properties, but first and chiefly to care about the greatest improvement of the soul."

"I tell you that virtue does not come from money, but that from virtue comes money and every other good of man, public as well as private."

—from Plato's Apology

YMCA—Your Money Constantly Appreciated

The YMCA's tin barn accommodated 41,355 active persons during 1959. The facility, depressing and dismal, utterly inadequate, has been a nerve center for a graded program attended by boys and girls—from age 6 through high school and college.

The Y's figures disclose that last year saw 217 Y groups serving 3729 members with 325 adult leaders; 11 camps, caravans, and pack trips for 1133 youths and adults; 33 Saturday athletic leagues in all major sports for 1145 youngsters; 81 committees and councils with 554 adults working for boys and girls; 1298 teen-age boys and girls using the Y for meetings and parties; 6805 nonmembers using the Y regularly for meetings.

This means 41,355 persons actively used the tin barn last year.

The scope of the Y, if it had decent facilities, thus becomes difficult to imagine.

Meanwhile the association needs the support of everyone in Torrance who has a dollar to spare. The Century Club is growing, and the Torrance firemen will canvass every home in the city during six nights starting Thursday. (See Page 1.)

The firemen are giving their time, which is impossible to replace. They, and the Y, ask only for money. We should dig deep.

Honorable Murder

"The naked, simple fact is that the death penalty has been a gross failure. Beyond its horror and incivility, it has neither protected the innocent nor deterred the wicked."

"The recurrent spectacle of publicly sanctioned killing has cheapened human life and dignity without the redeeming grace which comes from justice meted out swiftly, evenly, humanely."

"The death penalty is invoked too randomly, too irregularly, too unpredictably, and too tardily to be defended as an effective example warning away wrongdoers."

Nine states having no death penalty enjoy lower homicide rates than others. Twelve states retaining the death penalty have the highest rate of all.

"In actual practice in California, as elsewhere, it is primarily inflicted upon the weak, the poor, the ignorant, and against racial minorities."

"In California, as in the nation as a whole, the overwhelming majority of those executed are psychotic or near-psychotic, alcoholic, mentally defective, or otherwise demonstrably mentally unstable."

The above axioms were spoken by Governor Brown—reflecting a great, human, and brave intellect—just before the Legislative assassins voted to continue sacrificing yet unborn human beings upon an altar of ignorance, shame, and brutality.

The sadistic lawmakers, deluded they are God, play fantastic tricks before high heaven.

And the angels weep.

Attlee Says Great Britain More Democratic Than U.S.

"We are rather more democratic than you, I believe."

Lord Clement Attlee, former prime minister of Great Britain, pleaded an El Camino College audience of 1379 last Saturday.

Prior to his appearance Lord Attlee met press representatives and college reporters at a conference.

Following his lecture, "The Future of Democratic Government," he made his third appearance in as many hours on the college campus.

Here he answered questions addressed by John de la Haye, assistant director of instruction. Queries were prepared by an audience of faculty members, student leaders, outstanding students of political science, college trustees, and other functionaries.

"Democracy depends on what the young people are going to do," he said, declaring the world's problems cannot be settled by summit conferences. "We must do what the public wants. We must live with others."

Questioned about socialized medicine, he observed, "I was at a socialized airport this morning and on some socialized roads, I believe you people even have socialized sewage facilities here."

He said the great powers only can exterminate one another or find a way of living peacefully together. "I am for a United World," he declared, bemoaning the fact that all plans are upset by the scientists and engineers.

"It's about time to give up this fight which none of us can win," he said. He cited importance of the United Nations as a factor in achieving peace.

To gain world peace, he suggested, nations may have to surrender some right such as bearing arms.

Comparing democratic views with those of communism, he declared, "I have a very strong faith in democracy and the western way of life, but we must face facts . . . we have this fight . . . the Communists take all rules from one man; democracies are dependent upon many."

Gas Rate Boost Hearings Will Open

The state Public Utilities Commission will begin public hearings tomorrow on the applications of the Southern Counties and Southern California Gas Companies for rate increases.

Commissioner Peter E. Mitchell and examiner William W. Dunlop will preside at 10 a.m. in the commission courtroom at 145 S. Spring St., Los Angeles.

The firms are seeking an overall increase of about 8%. According to the companies, the proposed rates would add about 60 cents to the gas bill of the average householder.

Both utilities will present evidence supporting their requests—Southern Counties on Monday and Tuesday and Southern California on Thursday and Friday.

The companies serve customers in Fresno, Imperial, Kern, Kings, Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino, San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara, Tulare, and Ventura counties.

Allstate Insurance Co. Plans Night Services

Extension of office hours to provide night drive-in claim service has been announced by Allstate Insurance Companies. Allstate will follow the pattern established by the parent, Sears, Roebuck, and will keep offices open until 9 p.m. Mondays, Thursdays, and Fridays.

RELIEF OFFERED WEARERS OF THICK-LENSED GLASSES

Freedom from the unpleasant appearance and burdensome weight of thick lensed glasses is now possible, according to J. M. Soss, optometrist in the Harbor Area for 32 years. Dr. Soss cites the opinion of eye authorities that most people suffering from far sightedness, near sightedness, astigmatism, keratoconus (swelling of the cornea), and postoperative cataract can enjoy improved vision through the use of new-type contact lenses. The field of vision is much greater and sight is clearer. Plastic contact lenses improve the appearance dramatically and the psychological effect on the wearer is amazing. Modern plastic "contacts" are easy to apply and they are designed to be worn comfortably all day. Dr. Soss suggests that those who are wearing thick lenses glasses stop in at his 1288 Sartori Ave. offices and find out how easy it is to wear contact lenses. There is no obligation, and no appointment is necessary. The phone number is FA 8-6602. Come in or write for fascinating illustrated booklet.
