Lifeguard Group Schedules Film Showing on Excitement of Surf Throughout the World

The fever that's sweeping the coast has been depicted in John Severson's new movie "Surf Fever," a full-length color adventure centering around followers of the surf and the waves they ride.

The Los Angeles County Lifeguard Association will sponsor Severson's program at the Pier Avenue Auditorium, Hermosa Beach, at 8:30 p.m. next Thursday, Friday, and Saturday and April 22 and 23.

"Surf Fever" was filmed in California, Hawaii, and Mexico. The movie will be narrated by John Severson.

Severson, one of the top big-surf riders, has produced a picture story of this fast growing sport, its feverish followers, and their greatest love—the surf.

He has ridden this surf on waves over 20 feet and conveys the thrill of it with his talent in art, photography, and narration.

Some of the surfing spots in this film will be Waimea Bay, Sunset Beach, Makaha, and Waikiki from Hawaiian Islands.

Proceeds go to the association fund. Tickets are available at any South Bay lifeguard station and at the door or call FR 2-2162.
