Materials needed to give understanding to man's emotions, behavior and values are presented in the book with special considerations made in the areas of personality relationships and mental hygiene.

"It is hoped that the book will help foster the building of appropriate behavior patterns as well as to help form an effective understanding of human values and the content of the good life," Dr. Tussing said.

Designed for the young adult, the book covers the subjects of social psychology, guidance, counseling and behavior deviations.

A professional consulting psychologist, Dr. Tussing has been on the faculty of El Camino since 1947. Charles Schlerf, El Camino alumnus, illustrated the text.
