Civic, CD Officials to Have Air Force Briefing Tonight

Civic and Civil Defense officials, along with more than 600 Air Force reserve officers from the South Bay and Long Beach areas, will attend a general briefing on the global operations of the Strategic Air Command tonight at 7 at Lakewood High School, Long Beach, it was announced by Lt. Col. Oscar A. Grab, commander of the South Bay's 9450th Air Reserve Squadron.

A team of officers from headquarters of SAC's 15th Air Force, March Air Force Base, will conduct the briefing, designed to inform responsible citizens and reservists of the nation's principal deterrent air arm.

The information will cover the ramifications of the global air command, with main emphasis placed on various aircraft and missiles in use operationally by SAC.

Much of the information formerly was classified. Officers on the SAC briefing team are Col. Horace E. Frink Jr., director of Information for 15th AF; Lt. Col. George J. Keely, special assistant for operations; and Lt. Col. William A.

Adams Jr., chief of Professional Development Branch, Directorate of Personnel.

Mayors, city councilmen, and Civil Defense officials from the following communities have been invited to attend: Torrance, Palos Verdes Estates, Redondo, Hermosa and Manhattan Beaches, El Segundo, Gardena, and Long Beach and surrounding cities.

The officer team will speak on the capabilities of such SAC weapons as the B-47 Stratojet, B-52 and B-52G Stratofortresses (the G model capable of launching the Hound Dog air-to-air missile.) B-58 Hustler, KC-97 Stratotanker, and the KC-135 Jet Stratotanker.

Capabilities and ranges of the following missiles will be discussed: SM-62 Shark, SM-65 Atlas, SM-68 Titan, GAM-72 Quail (the decoy missile), GAM-77 Hound Dog, and the Minuteman, the latter now in development in the Air Force.

The briefing also will touch on SAC's personnel, providing facts and figures on its experience (combat and noncombat), total hours flown by officers and airmen, average age and age range, and amount of time in the Air Force.
