Civic Symphony's Festival of the Arts to Open Friday

The Civic Symphony's three-day May Festival of the Arts will open Friday at 7 p.m. with The Hollywood Shakespeare Festival and an art exhibit.

The Shakespeare Festival is a civic and community professional company appearing in theaters, bowls, and universities.

They are directed by the actor, playwright, and producer, David Bond; choreography is by Jon Angelo. They will present excerpts from "Measure for Measure," "Love's Labour's Lost," "Troilus and Cressida," "King John" and "Two Gentlemen from Verona," with songs and dances of the Elizabethan period.

On the second night of the festival the feature will be the Civic Symphony, Elyse Aehle conducting, and the Morelli Ballet Company. Piano soloist will be 8-year-old Jimmy Howard of Torrance.

Sunday the Art Exhibit which will close at 6 p.m., ending the festival.

Tickets for reserved seats may be obtained at the Hermosa Chamber of Commerce or by sending a check to the Civic Symphony Office, 1617 Via Montemar, Palos Verdes Estates. Donation is $1 for either the Shakespeare or the Symphony-Ballet.

Horkey-Moore Gets Contract For Trailers

Horkey-Moore Association has received a follow-on contract from the missile division of North American Aviation for production of 10 more Ammonia Servicing Trailers.

Designed to provide ammonia to cool missile systems, they will be produced in Horkey-Moore's newly expanded plant here.

City Rules Lumber Company Must Make Street Repairs

Airport Lumber Co., Inc., 4274 Redondo Beach Blvd., must install curbs, gutters and sidewalks if the firm adds 450 square feet to the rear salesroom.

The company asked that it be exempt from making the improvements on the grounds that it could not meet the added expense of labor and materials due to the fact that it had signed a new five-year lease for the premises at an increase of 100% over the previous rental.

Torrance Public Works Director Wade E. Peebles, however, stated it was not a hardship case and the city council agreed.
