Police Locate Dog in Hurry, Ask Quick Report of Bites

Recent success by the Police Department in long-distance locating of a dog that bit a Torrance boy resulted today in a reminder from Gus Rethwisch, head of the juvenile division, to get your dog bites and accidents in early.

not call the department till six days after the boy, a four-year-old had been bitten, Rethwisch said.

With fast action by the lieutenant's friends on departments in the north, the owner of the dog was found. The boy, bitten by a dog belonging to visiting relatives, was taken to a doctor after the visitors left town. The people only knew that the dog's owner was a time salesman for radio stations, and he could be anywhere on the road in the northern part of the state.

When the doctor told the family to find the dog and hold it to see if it was diseased, they sought help from the department. The Highway Patrol was notified, but no result.

Rethwisch called Ventura, then Salinas, where he found the owner and dog. The county health department quarantined the dog for observation there. It was given a clean bill.

But it was a close call. Rethwisch urged anyone encountering dog bites, especially prevalent at schools close for the summer, to notify the county Health Department and the South Bay Humane Society at once.

Tickets on Sale for Final Concert by Los Cancioneros

Tickets went on sale last week for the final choral event of Los Cancioneros' 10th-anniversary year as the local mixed chorus prepares to present "An Evening with Jester Hairston" on June 24 and 25 at Redondo High School auditorium.

Hairston, who has made his mark as a composer, arranger, and choral conductor, first won the hearts of Los Cancioneros and its audiences when he appeared as guest conductor in the chorus' fifth annual concert in 1955. Since that time he has made frequent visits to the South Bay for Cancioneros activities, and the chorus values him highly, as a musician and as a friend.

The forthcoming concert will consist predominantly of Hairston choral arrangements, but will also feature some of the works of Hall Johnson, with whom Hairston was associated 13 years as assistant conductor of the famed Hall Johnson Choir.

The chorus has been rehearsing under its director, Barbara Mabin, who has gained recognition as an interpreter of Negro spirituals and who introduced the group to Hairston arrangements early in its career.

The June concert will feature Hairston as guest conductor and will include "O Rocka My Soul" and "Great Gettin' Up Mornin'"—old favorites with Cancioneros audiences—as well as several new songs and spirituals.

Mrs. Robert Matson and Mrs. Harvey Spelman of Los Amigos de Los Cancioneros who are supervising concert arrangements. Stage sets will be executed by Les Thomas and costuming will be handled by Mildred Deets, who scored with costumes for last year's "Best of Broadway" production.

Although the chorus is busy with the culminating events of the current season it is already looking forward to the 1960-61 year, with the recent election of the advisory board which will guide next season's activities.

Thais Bothwell of Palos Verdes Estates was elected chairman of the board and will be assisted by treasurer Henry Morgan, wardrobe chairman, Ruth Teutsch, Bill Gohsman, social chairman, and Betty Holloway, member-at-large, all of Torrance.

Other officers will be Mildred Deets, San Pedro, publicity; Frances Hybertsen, Rolling Hills, secretary; Ann McLean, Wilmington, librarian; and Ailsa Muldoon, Palos Verdes Estates, La Voz editor.

Ticket numbers for the concert are FR 5-7202 and FR 5-1693.

College Offers Course on Organization

"Principles of Classroom Organization in the Elementary School" is the subject of a University of California extension class beginning July 5 at Torrance Elementary School, 2005 Martina Ave.

Judith Miller, instructor, will emphasize effective arrangement of materials, planning of work space, and care and filing of materials, during the Monday through Friday, 7 to 10 p.m. sessions.

OBITUARIES
