BUSINESS CLUB AWARDS—Mrs. Loring Bigelow (right) gives Walteria Business Women's scholarship to Linda Colbert.

while her husband of Walteria Business Men's Club awards scholarship to Daryl Michaelson at assembly Tuesday.

Clubs Award Two Scholarships

Cash awards of $200 each Tuesday by the Walteria Business Women's Club and and boy at South High School Business Men's Club at the Award Assembly at the school.

The presentation of the scholarships represented three years of preparation by members of both clubs.

Under leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Loring L. Bigelow, qualifications and standards required were established and special fund-raising events planned.

The awards will be given annually to qualified senior boys and girls.

Winner of the first Walteria Business Women's Club scholarship is Linda Colbert, 5021 Carmen St.

She will attend Occidental College and major in journalism.

Linda was front-page editor of the school newspaper and last summer was chosen to attend the USC school of journalism.

She has been active in the Girls Athletic Assn., the French Club, and the California Scholarship Federation.

The Walteria Business Men's Club gave its first scholarship to Daryl Michaelson, 3415 227th Place.

He will attend the University of California. His major will be chemistry.

Daryl has been active in the Boy's League and on the cross-country varsity. He was class representative to the Senior Class Council.

JUDIE QUANDT WITH TEACHER ROBERT MUNN

Walteria Student Finds Error in Grammer Text

A Walteria School seventh grader has received a letter from a textbook editor thanking her for pointing out a mistake in the speller the class was using.

During discussions in Robert Munn's class, Judie Quandt noticed a mistake in grammar in one of the examples cited.

She wrote a letter to the World Book Co., pointing out that grammatically, the sentence, "The hiker had no water left in his canteen" was not correct.

It should have been "The hiker had not any water left in his canteen."

This week, she received a reply from Erma P. Ferrari, editor for the firm, thanking her for pointing out the mistake. The editor noted that it was grammatically incorrect, but was commonly used.

"We agree that the sentence should be changed and are making provision for doing so in the next edition," the letter stated.

A beaming Judie reported that spelling and grammar are her favorite subjects.
