Seat Belts Help Prevent Auto Injury

Seat belts properly installed and used can prevent approximately one out of each three deaths to motorists on the Los Angeles Freeway system, according to John McDonald, Automobile Club of Southern California Engineering Department manager.

McDonald's conclusion is based on a recent study, conducted by the Auto Club of Southern California with the cooperation of the Los Angeles Police Department, which revealed 39% of freeway fatalities occurred when occupants of vehicles involved in collisions were thrown to the pavement.

"The freeways have already proven to be much safer than surface streets. Probably the most effective measure which motorists can take now to reduce fatalities and serious injury on the system is the installation of seat belts," McDonald emphasized.

Belts Protect
"Seat belts would be effective also in reducing deaths and injuries in surface street accidents," he added.

The Auto Club study covered the 24 fatal freeway accidents within Los Angeles during the first four months of this year. Out of this number, 12 deaths resulted when victims were thrown from cars onto the pavement.

A typical police report summary on this type of accident reads, "Vehicle ran off roadway and struck guardrail. Driver and passenger sustained fatal injuries when thrown from vehicle."

Team Investigates
The Auto Club engineer added, "Additional evidence of the effectiveness of seat belts is provided by a study conducted by the Automotive Crash Injury Research Team at Cornell University Medical College reviewing 10,000 motor vehicle injury accidents.

"According to this study, a motorist with seat belt fastened properly has an eight times better chance of survival than a motorist thrown out of the car in the same type of accident; a five times better chance to avoid moderate to dangerous injuries; and a two-and-one-half times better chance to avoid injury altogether. A motorist protected by a seat belt has a three-and-one-half times better chance of survival than the unprotected motorist even though he is not thrown out."

Stars Support Charity Sale At Hilton Hotel

"Auction fever" will prevail tonight when Hollywood stars join civic, community and industry leaders at the international auction in the Beverly Hilton Hotel on behalf of the Eleanor Roosevelt Institute for Cancer Research.

Ralph Bellamy, Raymond Burr, Greer Garson, ZaZa Gabor, Gertrude Niessen, Mary Pickford, Charles "Buddy" Rogers and noted director-producer Dore Schary will participate in the unique event, according to Fred Hall, chairman, and O. Richard Capen, co-chairman.

Some 40 items from the private collections of world famous personalities—including a vial of the original polio vaccine used in the field trials by Dr. Jonas Salk—will be auctioned.

Arrangements have been made to have the successful bidder for the vial donate it to the UCLA Medical School, where it will be placed on permanent display. Accompanying the 100 cc. container is Dr. Salk's paper, "Vaccination against Paralytic Poliomyelitis—Performance and Prospects," which he presented in April, 1955.

Other celebrated donors include Leonard Bernstein, Sir Winston Churchill, Noel Coward, Walt Disney, Lily Pons, Sir Bertrand Russell and Dr. Albert Schweitzer.

FRANKIE AND GINA, Sinatra and Lolabrigida, that is, co-star in "Never So Few." Drama, loaded with war, romance and action is screening tonight and tomorrow at Radium Drive-In theater. Companion feature is "Mutiny" starring Mark Stevens.

Off-Shore Barges Ready for Vacationing Isaac Waltons

Special scheduling to handle families hunting for beach vacation activity is in effect on two offshore Redondo Beach fishing barges.

For the remainder of June—when barge fishing becomes the activity of large numbers of out-of-school families—operators of two Redondo barges have halved barge prices for "Family Days."

Barge men said the half price of $2 per person would be in effect weekdays and nights, Monday through Thursday.

Stepped-up scheduling and provisioning of the barge fishing program will hold through the summer for both day and night fishermen, it was announced.

Beach-to-barge service by "The Voyager" excursion launch will be on a faster schedule 24 hours a day except Sunday night, operators said.

Restaurants on the "Sacramento," a 300-foot-long former ferry, and the "CeCoaster," will be provisioned with family tastes and budgets in mind. Bait tanks, bait and tackle shops, and barge restrooms have been remodeled to handle families interested in beach or ocean outings.

Mackerel, bonito, sea bass, barracuda, halibut and sculpin are plentiful at the 3-mile barge locations. Launch service enables passengers to switch barges at will.

Famous Canines Highlight Show

Canine performers of television and motion-picture fame will provide special entertainment at the 25th annual Harbor Cities Kennel Club all-breed dog show and obedience trial today on Long Beach Municipal Auditorium grounds, it was announced recently.

"Cleo," television's "Talking dog," will star at a special show at 3:30 p.m. Youngsters attending the performance will be given a photo of the comic basset hound.

Another veteran performer to delight the oldsters as well as the youngsters will be the old English Sheepdog, "Blue Boy," seen numerous times on television's Bachelor Father and appearing currently in Ernie Kovacs' motion picture, "Wake Me When It's Over." "Blue Boy" will be on exhibition today.

Largest dog show in the west, 2402 pedigreed entries join in the American Kennel Club competition, with sporting, working and terrier breeds appearing.
