

Alter Realty Opens Office on Western

A new branch realty office is being opened at 20290 S. Western Ave., corner of 203rd and Western. Most of Alter's seven offices communicate with private lines from the main PBX board and can be reached easily.

The firm president believes that a number of offices, closely connected can furnish better services to the public. Alter Realty has complete company maintained ownership service, plus services of four realty boards of which they are members.

The company is headed by Gerald L. Alter, president of Alter Realty and Insurance, and is currently president of Leads, Inc., an investment group. Alter Building Co. and Torrance Mortgage Co. He is a member of Torrance Rotary Club, Bert S. Crossland American Legion Post and is a captain in the Torrance Police Reserves, and a member of the famous Ox5 Airplane Club. His first salesman, C. J. "Paddy" Ryan, started with Alter in 1947, and now manages a branch office at 1331 W. Carson St., Torrance.

Manufacturers Predict Labor Force Increase

With an estimated 15,482,000 persons 14 years of age or older in California by 1970, and a total population of well over 20,000,000 it is foreseen that 8,724,400 will be in the state's labor force by that year.

According to a report compiled by the National Association of Manufacturers, the men and women who will constitute this labor market will add up to 56.4% of the population over 14 years of age, against the 54.6% in 1950 and the estimated 55% in 1960.

The change between these over-all percentage figures does not reflect the startling shifts within the components of the labor force, where a major reshuffling is taking place.

Numerically, in California, all of the age and sex groups in the labor force will increase (except the number of men in the labor force over 65), but changes will have occurred in their relative importance, the association predicted.
