Bank Guard Befriends as 'Part of Duties'

Friend to all, and one who is always willing to give a helping hand, this is the description of Frank Muggler, bank guard for the Torrance Bank of America, as given by his boss, Harold G. Frenz. Muggler's face may be familiar to persons who frequent the bank, for he is always on the floor, checking to see that all things go well. "I even keep my eye on children when mothers are busy at the windows," he insisted, however, "I am not a babysitter." The guard, originally from Switzerland, has been in California for three years. He plans to make this his permanent home. When Muggler first obtained the duties of bank guard, he found it strange, standing in the lobby doing nothing. So, he began to make himself useful by guiding customers to windows, aiding as superintendent of the stationary and supply department, resolving parking problems, etc.

DISTRIBUTING HAPPINESS—Bank Guard Frank Muggler, native of Switzerland, supplies Dorothy Kirkpatrick, head of the escrow department of the Bank of America, with paper. This is only part of his duties included in the position.

State Allocates Highway Building Tax Expenditure

Apportionments from the Highway Users Tax Fund exceeded $400 million for the first time in history in the 1959-60 fiscal year, State Controller Alan Cranston reported today. Los Angeles County and the cities therein received a total of $26,279,469.26 from the state for street and highway maintenance. Cranston said apportionments from the fund totaled $413,748,870, compared with $387,206,730 in the 1958-59 fiscal year. The major share of the 1959-60 total—$296,495,891—went into the State Highway Fund for expenditure on highways, Cranston said. The 58 California counties received a total of $83,708,423 by direct allocation from Cranston's office, and the remaining $33,544,556 was transferred to the State Highway Fund for ultimate distribution to the cities. Principal source of revenue for the Highway Users Tax Fund is the six-cents-per-gallon gasoline tax. Four cents of the six goes to the State Highway Fund for highways, while the remaining two cents is divided between the counties and cities—1 1/2 cents for the counties and 5/8 of a cent for the cities. The law requires that the money be spent for construction, improvement and maintenance of highways, roads and streets.

Local Derby Team Flies to 5th Spot

Racing to a fifth place in the 14th annual All-Woman Transcontinental Air Race, "Powder Puff Derby," which started at Torrance Municipal Airport July 9 at 9 a.m., two local women, pilot Iris Critchell and co-pilot Mary C. Pinkney, arrived in Wilmington, Delaware, after a battling time with 75 other woman pilots. Placing first in the contest were Aileen Saunders, pilot, of El Cajon, and her co-pilot, June Douglas, of Fall River, Mass. Mrs. Saunders claimed the first place of last year's air race also. Mrs. Saunders, with 1100 hours flying time, claims this is her fourth T.A.R. She flew a 145 horsepower Cessna 172. Arriving second was Frances Miller of South Carolina, who was soloing in a Piper 24. Two Michigan flyers who came in third were Lucille Quamby, piloting, and Bernice Steadman. They arrived in a Cessna 172. Betty Miller and Elaine Waldon, both of Los Angeles, took the fourth place spot in their Cessna 172, the number 34 airplane to leave Torrance. Sixth place was granted to Frances S. Bera and Anette Castle of Santa Monica, flying a two-motor Piper PA-23. The first airplane to arrive at Wilmington, entry number 14, flown by Margaret Densmore and Constance Volk of Massachusetts, pulled into the airport Sunday, July 10, at 5:30 p.m. Although this plane arrived first, because the race times are computed during flying time only, any plane arriving before noon, July 13, has a chance to place. Each entry was given a par speed, this is the speed the plane of that particular make is expected to make. Speed made over the par speed is used in determining the winner. Therefore, the better the flying conditions, the better chance the entrant has. This is the reason many teams remained at airports during flying hours. Cash prizes for the derby ranged from $800 for the top winner to $200 for the sixth placer. Awards were presented Friday night during the annual convention banquet of the race sponsor, Ninety-Niners, Inc., which is an international organization of women pilots. There was only one mishap during the trip. It occurred Monday when one of the planes, having landing gear trouble, was forced to make a belly landing. There were no injuries. Two planes were disqualified from the race, one which landed at an unauthorized flying field because of engine trouble, and another which dropped out of the contest. Mrs. Saunders and her co-pilot flew the 2509 mile trip in 18 hours and 27 minutes.

President Signs Law for Vet Compensation

A new law providing for additional compensation to veterans with severe service-connected disabilities who have more than three children has been signed by President Eisenhower, Mort Webster, Manager of VA's Southern California Regional Office announced today. The prior law did not authorize payment for more than three children, Webster said. The additional compensation will range for $12 monthly for each child after the first three where the veteran's service-connected disability is evaluated at 100 percent down to $6 monthly where the veteran's disability is evaluated at 50 percent. Between the two extremes proportionate amounts will be payable for percentages of disability. Where the disability was due to peacetime service, the rates would be eighty percent of the amount payable for wartime disability.
