Entering the service at this time, under the "Buddy Group Enlistment," were Ernest H. Berryman and Michael L. Vander Linden, paratroopers; Ben A. Ginger, administration; Russell S. Bruce and Kimberly T. Gardow, telephone repair and installation; and Billie M. Crouse, who will serve in Europe.

Other enlistees are Rodney J. Blueschel and David C. L. Cook, medical field; Neil A. Everhart and Thomas D. O'Neil, army security agency; Carl J. Bohannon and Glenn H. Sutow, military police; and George B. Scott, guided missile site, Albany, Georgia.

Conducting the swearing in ceremony was Lt. Colonel Robert O. Thomas, commander of the Southern California Army Recruiting District.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies, Miss Betty Baker, who holds the titles of Miss

Torrance and Miss Armed Forces, thanked the men on their enlistment into the army and wished them good luck in their military career.

Sgt. Donald E. Fleming, U.S. Army recruiting representative, whose office is located at 1319 Sartori Ave., said, "The program offered by the army, a program of choice, not chance, offers great opportunities for qualified young men."
