College Debaters Vie for Honors This Saturday

Debaters of El Camino College will vie for forensic honors in a tournament at Long Beach State College this Saturday Oct. 29.

Orley Lindgren captured two second-place awards in the fields of oral interpretation and extemporaneous speaking at San Diego College last week, and Jim Howell received second place in oratory. The pair accounted for the initial honors for El Camino orators this semester.

The meet at Long Beach will give competitive practice to novice debaters, with one year's experience or less. Junior college and university debate squads from the entire Southern California areas will attend.

El Camino's forensic team members planning to attend include Janet Bourbeau, Jerry Hedges, Orley Lindgren, Larry Davison, Jim Howell, Ed Buchanan, Tom Ham-

Gateway Council Holds Session

Two more workshops were held this month for Gateway Council PTA members.

Mrs. William A. Young, council legislation chairman, met with local chairmen in her home at 2518 Maray Avenue San Pedro.

School of Information material was carefully reviewed, and was given to the chairmen.

Mrs. Young expressed the hope that every local chairman will equip herself with a working knowledge of legislation matters of the structure of local and state governments, and particularly CCPT legislation policy, so she may be of real service by passing this knowledge along to the membership of the local associations.

Chairmen were reminded that tenth district executive board had voted to actively support the Los Angeles City school districts' bond proposal of $153,000,000 to appear on the Nov. 8th 1960 general election ballot. Nearly two-thirds of the funds will be spent on schools here in tenth district.

All local schools will participate in the bond drive, according to Mrs. John Blackmon, council president who was a guest at the workshop.

Other members attending were: mesdames Irvin B. Bishop, Gardena High; E. N. Reese, president of Gardena High PTA; Morgan Ralls, Dana Junior High and Joseph Butler, legislation chairman for Flaming Junior High and president of Narbonne High PTA.

Mrs. Eric Heinzman, council chairman of 436 Walnut Street, Gardena, advised local chairmen who met in her home for a workshop, that safety education is a continuing program and chairmen should think, act and talk safety.

Mrs. Heinzman expressed the hope that every unit will have a well rounded safety program for the year, and will work actively in the interest of safety in the home, the school and the community. It was suggested that local Masons, mechanics, metal workers and other artisans in Teheran, Iran, must have their own tools to practice their trades. It would take vocational school graduates a year to earn the tools sent in CARE $20 packages. These gifts mean graduates can get jobs.

"Interpreting Children's Literature," sponsored by the Los Angeles State College can be seen at 12:30 p.m. on KCOP every Monday, Wednesday and Friday until Jan. 1, 1961.

safety chairmen offer assistance to the principal and faculty safety chairman, and find out what they can do to help.

All phases of the safety program was discussed, and pamphlets and school of information material was distributed to the chairmen.

Those members attending the workshop were mesdames Herbert Hackler, Peary Junior High; Marvin Fulton, Narbonne High; D. Cussinger, Banning High and John Blackmon, council president.

Seaside Church to View Film

Reformation Sunday will be celebrated at Seaside Community Church, 230 and Ocean Ave., Torrance, with the sermon topic, "Our Continuing Reformation," Oct. 30.

A family night pot-luck dinner will be held in the evening, at which the premiere showing of the story of Seaside Community Church, told in slides and entitled "Our Church," will be shown. The evening is being planned by Harry Dice as part of the 1961 Christian Enlistment program. The dinner arrangements have been made by Mrs. Clyde Rosellen.

O "kick-off" luncheon for the Christian Enlistment teams will be held at noon on Nov. 6, under the direction of Roger Schriefer.
