

Richard Mason Enrolls at Cal Poly

Richard Mason, son of Mr. and Mrs. Augustine J. Mason, 20615 New Hampshire Ave., Torrance, has been accepted in the Ornamental Horticulture program at California State Polytechnic College, San Luis Obispo, California. Before graduating from Gardena High School last Spring, Richard was a member of the Gardena Chapter of Future Farmers of America and received a $500 Edward Wresse scholarship to attend college. The Cal Poly Ornamental Horticulture Department prepares students for employment in nursery, florist and landscape work. Facilities of the Ornamental Horticulture Department at Cal Poly include landscape design laboratories, greenhouses, lath-houses, cloth houses and an extensive field

Torrance Now 127th Largest City in U.S.

City of Torrance made national headlines Tuesday when it was classified, along with the city of Anaheim as registering the most spectacular growth of all cities in the United States. Figures compiled over a 10-year period showed that both cities had jumped from less than 25,000 population to more than 100,000. City of Torrance is now the 127th largest city in the nation the figures showed. During the same period the City of Los Angeles grew from 1,970,358 to 2,479,015 according to census bureau figures.

Los Angeles State Campus Awaits Today's Visit by Mrs. Roosevelt

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, described by current historians as a diplomat and writer of major importance, will speak at Los Angeles State College Thursday evening. Scheduled for 8:30 p.m., in the college's 5,000-seat gymnasium, Mrs. Roosevelt's address will be on the United Nations and its importance to individual citizens of the United States.

She will be honored at a dinner held on campus earlier in the evening and will leave Los Angeles immediately following her address. Her appearance at Los Angeles State is part of the college's student convocations program and is under the direction of senior Shirley Peck, convocations commissioner.

DIRECTIONAL SIGNALS
The Automobile Club of Southern California points out that directional signals are great aids in informing other drivers of your intentions to turn. But if the turn is gradual, be sure your flashing lights are off after the turn. Never have your directional signals flashing after you have completed your turning maneuver.

Hospital Manager Elected VP of Accountant Ass'n.

James R. Cooper, business manager at South Bay Hospital, has been elected vice president of the Southern California Chapter of the American Association of Hospital Accountants, it was announced this week. Prior to his association with South Bay Hospital, Cooper was business manager at Collin Memorial Hospital, a 100-bed facility at McKinney, Tex., and business manager at Medical Center Hospital, a 180-bed facility at Odessa, Tex. In his new office with the Southern California Chapter of AAHA, Cooper will be instrumental in his group's efforts to establish standardized methods and systems of accounting practice throughout Southern California through the Uniform Accounting Manual of the American Hospital Association.

Cooper lives in Redondo Beach, with his wife, Bea, and son, Jimmie, 11.
