WHAT'S DOING

 R.S. Pyle, your Telephone Manager in Torrance

Telephone people have an important part in America's effort to send man into outer space. Western Electric, the manufacturing branch of the Bell Telephone System, heads a group of companies building a world-wide network of tracking stations.
 The stations will track the capsule and send command signals to it. They will also receive signals reporting the spaceman's physical condition and provide direct communication between him and his earthbound colleagues.
 The National Aeronautics and Space Administration sponsors the project.

Meeting emergencies is a familiar story to telephone people. For when storms, fire or flood strike, phone lines often become lifelines. Reserve power supplies are one of the ways we keep ready for emergencies.
 These generators run by gasoline or diesel engines are on stand-by in telephone central offices. If they are needed, they can be started up to feed electricity into the batteries that furnish power for your phone calls. So, good weather or bad your telephone is a service you can count on.

TIMELY TIPS FOR CHRISTMAS CALLS
 Long distance lines to out-of-state cities and towns are busier on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day than at any other time of the year. You can be sure of reaching your folks and your friends if you use three tips.
 1. Plan your telephone holiday get-togethers for periods other than Christmas Eve, December 25 and 26. (The same reduced rates also apply after 6:00 p.m. every evening and all Sundays.)
 2. Call the telephone number . . . get it in advance if possible.
 3. Dial direct . . . use your DDD service if you have it.
 4. More DDD lines are available after 11 o'clock at night.
