TIGERS MAY TAKE FLAG .... BUT NOT YANKEES

After the World Series of 1960 was concluded this reporter, along with many others, was stunned over the firing of Casey Stengel. Our columns were filled with mourning for the old champ and regret that Yankee bosses put age before ability.

As a manager Ralph Houk, present lineup caller of the Bronx Bombers, is as good if not better than half the mentors in the major leagues today. However, he'll have to be a greater juggler than Casey Stengel had to be in order to come up with a winning team this year. For Case this is old hat but to the inexperienced Houk it's a monumental task.

If you recall Stengel was able to put a sufficient amount of games in the win column to assure a pennant. He did this with one, and possibly two stars . . . Mantle of course and Roger Maris.

Of all the decisions he made last year Stengel managed to come up right more The "senile" gent knew his clubhouse well. For the past

DETROIT IN IF PICHING CONTINUES

On the other hand the Tigers from Detroit are playing second will of the season. Other drivers entered ina kind of ball called "inspiring" by newsmen. The hitters are getting good wood on the apple and the pitchers are coasting behind this barrage of wallops. Unlike the Yankees who have mediocre players the Tigers seem to be loaded with talent. They are not jugglers of the lineup, or platooners like the Bombers . . . . hence the no need for "feelings"

As in horse racing the Tigers may be setting the pace Southwood LL Scoring for the American League race. Although we picked the Yankees to head the American League standings in October back before the season started it might behoove us to hedge a bit at this writing. Considering the above our choice of junior circuit standard bearer in the Series is the Orioles from Baltimore. They have the hitters and the pitchers . . . . only trouble now is that they haven't gotten started . . . but look for them to do so very
