TIME TO DIG-UP

The time has come when you can dig up those Daffodils that bloomed last spring. And the question naturally arises, "Is digging really necessary?" According to the California Association of Nurserymen, digging seems to result in better bloom though it's not really necessary unless clumps are quite crowded. If you do dig, dry the bulbs and store them in a cool place (the cooler the better) until September and then plant them again.

Footlight Play Continues Run

The beauties of Chinese costume came to life this past weekend when Footlight Theater presented that beautiful play of the Orient entitled "Lady Precious Stream" at Crenshaw School, Torrance.

This drama, translated by Dr. S. I. Hsiung, is developed in the manner of the Chinese theatre, which means no stage settings. The obligation of imagination terminates with the absence of scenery and stage properties when it comes to costumes, for some of these have been made by Marie Tankersley, and Karen Kraegel and others donated by Mrs. Joseph Kuaka.

Here, all the richness of Oriental color and decoration is assembled, making the stage a brilliant picture. Director Bob Taylor announces four more performances, July 7, 8, 14, and 15. Curtain time is at 8:30.

HALL OF FAME

"Hallmark Hall of Fame" will open its 11th season on the NBC-TV network next fall with a 90-minute color production of Laurence Housman's "Victoria Regina" starring Julie Harris in the title role.

DRY BLOOM

The beauty of the Bougainvillea can beshould villa vine can be enhanced if the gardener keeps it on the dry side during bloom. Overwatering this showy specimen seems to make the colorful bracts less vivid.
