

Barbershop Quartet Extends Invitation

SALUTE

Serving at the North Island Naval Air Station, San Diego, is John W. Blodgett, airman, USN, son of Mrs. Naomi Atchison of 5306 Carson St., Torrance.

San Diego serves as home port for many vessels of the powerful Pacific Fleet and as home base for numerous Navy fighter and bomber squadrons.

Cadet Gerald F. Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley G. Roberts, 1225 Hickory, Torrance, is receiving six weeks of training at the Army Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) summer camp at Fort Lewis, Wash. The training is scheduled to be concluded July 28.

During this training Cadet Roberts is receiving practical experience and instruction in tactical, technical and administrative subjects, with special emphasis placed on the duties of a second lieutenant in an infantry unit.

The 20-year-old cadet is a 1958 graduate of Torrance High School, a member of Sigma Pi fraternity, and is attending Oregon State University at Corvallis.

A warning beacon to ships of the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean is the radar picket destroyer USS Goodrich.

Serving aboard the Goodrich is Thomas L. Frislie, radarman third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. M.L. Frislie of 2810 Winlock Rd., Torrance.

The destroyer is a "seeing-eye" ship, heavily equipped with radio and radar, furnishing around-the-clock warning of attack on the fleet by planes, missiles and submarines.

The exercise, dubbed "Pony Express," combined British Royal Marines, Royal Australian Infantry, Royal Thai Marines, Filipino underwater demolition teams and the Third Marine Division.

The expeditionary brigade of SEATO, launched its "assault" in the Kota Belud area of North Borneo.

"Barbershop quartet singing, so popular with American folks throughout the last century, has come again into the limelight in the San Pedro area," said Walter Jay Stephens of the Palos Verdes Chapter of The Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America Inc.

"Men from all walks of life—men who love the good old songs and get a lift out of four part harmony—are invited to attend the next chorus rehearsal meeting at 7:45 p.m. Monday night," he said.

The group meets at the Anderson Memorial Recreation Center at 9th and Mesa Streets in San Pedro.

HARMONY

"Barbershop harmony, good old he-man four-part harmony, is as American as pie ala mode or corn on the cob. Barbershop quartet singing is the product of the average run of folks; not of the musical conservatories or Tin Pan Alley.

"It interprets the mood of the carpenter sawing a board, the salesman making calls, the laborer in the factory, the judge on the bench, the executive at his desk, the farmer pitching hay," he said.

APPEARANCE

Many thousands of appearances have been made by SPEBSQSA quartets and choruses for worthy causes such as Veterans Hospitals, community charity events, private and public hospitals and other institutions.

"Keep America Singing" is the slogan of this society which is based on a substantial American folk-music tradition.

NUMBER MOUNTS

In the last year, the number of quartets has pyramided. Public approval of Quartet Contests and Quartet Concerts, given in the largest community auditoriums, is a matter of common knowledge," he said.

The significant thing is that there has been no sensational advertising, no spectacular display nor appeal to academic support. Success has been built on just one thing—cleverly arranged and finely blended harmony. Call it "barbershop" if you will, but don't try to discount it. It is a great entertainment. And it is here to stay," Stephens concluded.

Painter Shows Landscape Art

"Landscapes from the Subconscious" is the title of the new one-man oil painting show by Portuguese Bend artist Elsa Nelson, presented at the Artists' Gallery Co-operative at 121 South Pacific, Redondo, from July 9 through 22, with the artist present to greet the public Sunday, July 9, from 1 to 4:30 p.m.

Regarding her work, Mrs. Nelson said, "I feel that my paintings come from the inner thoughts and feelings that I experience when I am moved by a landscape, perhaps viewed year ago."

"I do not paint out in nature, but go out to absorb the 'feel and perfume' of the place or season, and return to my studio to tell about it in the language of paint," she said.

SHOWING

Beginning July 17, through August 17, paintings by the day landscape and seascape classes and the night modern experimental art classes taught by Mrs. Nelson will be showing at the Palos Verdes Security First National Bank in the Plaza.

The Parsons Gallery, the Heritage Gallery, and the Los Angeles Art Association, all of Beverly Hills, have been showing Mrs. Nelson's work. She recently won honorable mention at the Palos Verdes Library Vicinity show, and has won many other awards and prizes.

COMMISSIONED

She has been commissioned to do a painting for a large hotel in Sweden and has otherwise been busy teaching and doing murals in local homes and apartments.

Mrs. Nelson received her early art training in Stockholm, Sweden, and later at the Los Angeles County Art Institute.
