Friendliness Sparks Organization of Club

An idea and a friendly neighborhood are the ingredients that sparked the organization of Victor Woman's Club last March.

It all began at the home of Mrs. John Galvin, current president, who gathered 10 women at her home from the Victor Tract to discuss the possibilities of organizing a club.

From this start, the club has grown to include 75 members who meet the first Tuesday of every month except August. The club consists of interest groups which participate in arts and crafts, bowling, bridge, volleyball, couples' recreation, beach outings, gardening, sewing, and slim and trim programs.

The civic committee of the club is responsible for getting stop signs on Henrietta St.

Members had also requested a recreation program at Victor School which is now in full swing.

Other activities include organizing a teenage group under club sponsorship and compiling a list of recommended babysitters which was circulated among members. Car pools to transport children to activities of the Recreation Department have been formed.

The club has sponsored programs on Communism, floral arrangement, mosaics, and mouth to mouth resuscitation. Future events include a pool party for couples, fashion show, back to school swap, and a Christmas Bazaar.

Mrs. Galvin, whose husband is a fireman with L.A. City, is the mother of two, Gary seven, and Gail, 10. Her hobbies include sewing, bridge and crafts. Members of the family are camping and boating enthusiasts.

Birthday in Hollywood

Celebrating the eighth birthday of Rhonda Loy Campbell, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Campbell, 2223 Andree Ave., Torrance, accompanied her and young friends to a show in Hollywood July 16.

After watching "The Parent Trap" at the Vogue Theatre, the group returned to the Campbells' home for refreshments.

Games and other special events are planned for the girls and their mothers. Cookies and lunch will be served by members of the park's mothers' club. Heading arrangements are Arlene Nakawase and Barbara Hester.
