

Lutheran Society Receives Report

The Mary and Martha Society of Immanuel Lutheran Church of Redondo Beach held its August meeting at the church with Mrs. Robert Massingill, president presiding. Devotions at the meeting were led by Mrs. Roy Galli and committee reports were given by the chairmen.

Final plans were made for the church's annual anniversary potluck dinner to be held at the church on Sept. 17 with Mrs. William Henges, hospitality chairman in charge of food planning.

The program of the evening consisted of a report of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League's international convention held recently at Pittsburgh, Pa., by Mrs. Walter Dashnaw of First Lutheran Church, Manhattan Beach.

Mrs. Dashnaw reported on the various projects, totaling $240,000 granted by this women's organization. The total membership of the LWML is 200,000 and the convention was attended by 478 delegates, 1394 guests and 102 pastors.

Theme of the convention was "Living With My Lord," and emphasized the guiding hand that the women of the church must give in the missionary field. All contributions to the league are made by the women of the Lutheran Church through miteboxes, pennies and dimes donated to further the Lord's work in areas less fortunate than our own.

Mrs. Dashnaw also reported that the delegates from the Southern California District extended an invitation to hold the 1965 convention at the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles, which was accepted. The 1963 convention will be held in Kansas.

'Promised Valley' Production Tells Of Latter Day Saints Trek to Utah

Grays fading into shades of purple and bursting into arrays of red pink and orange will blend with music and dance to create a production of "Promised Valley," when the Redondo Stake of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints presents the story of the Mormon trek to Utah, Sept. 7, 8 and 9 at Leuzinger High School Auditorium.

The show will be at 8:30 p.m.

The story, based on historical fact, takes Mormon Pioneers from their winter quarters outpost in Council Bluffs, Iowa and follows them across the plains.

It tells of their bravery in answering the call of their government to send a five hundred man battalion to claim the south western area of our country for the United States. It tells of their industrious efforts to turn the barren Salt Lake Valley into a beautiful city.

The inspiring pioneer story takes on new highlights and perspective due to creative talents poured into the production. Acting as producer is Fay X. Bybee, who has been active in college drama and in 1954 won State of California Little Theatre award for "Best Character Actor in the State," and has conducted operas, choirs and symphonies.

June Moncur Waite, drama director, graduated from University of Utah majoring in speech and theatre. She played one season of summer stock at Falmouth, Mass. She received the Barte Theatre award in 1953 for "The most promising young actress in New York," and has worked on radio and TV in Salt Lake City.

Coreographer Louise Boutwell has had 15 years of experience and has danced with such notables as Martha Graham, Hanya Holm and the Lathrop Dance

Many times, after starting a church, the missionary spearheads other community development, then leaves the area in the hands of its people. Missionaries usually do not stay in one place longer than four years.
