Fashion for Fall Found Featured For Gay Tahitian Rendezvous

"A Rendezvous in Tahiti" is the theme for the fall fashion show and luncheon to be given by the Women's Council of St. James Catholic Church Oct. 15 at the Polynesian Restaurant, 3901 Pacific Coast Hwy., Torrance from 1 to 4 p.m.

Mrs. William Sandstrom is president of the council and Mrs. Joseph D'Amato is serving as chairman of the event. Mrs. Clarence L. Fox is her co-chairman.

Door and raffle prizes are under the supervision of Mrs. Robert Wassmuth and Mrs. Curtis Crampton. The prizes include vacation trip to Las Vegas, gift certificates for a local store and others.

Fashion Models
Council members and their teen daughters will serve as models and will be featured wearing fashions made available by local stores. They are Mmes. Lester Lilliwhite, Robert Kendrick, Allan Harken, Hugh Cahill, Daniel Levath, Roy Burton, Robert Eisleben and Daniel Filich.

Teen models are Jeannie Agnew, Marilyn Beard, Margie Donovan, Dolores Appel, Dee Blydenburg, Marie Acree, Lorraine Lilliwhite and Jackie Larkens. Commentator for the event will be Mrs.

Nicholas Humpting.
Decorations
Mrs. Hubert Gulick is in charge of decorations, carrying out the Tahitian theme. Mrs. Wilbert Herschler is in charge of table favors. Mrs. Albert Goodall is ticket chairman and Mrs. Robert Gebele is publicity chairman. Tickets may be obtained by calling Mrs. Goodall at FR 9-1793 or at the Polynesian Restaurant on the day of the fashion show. Everyone is welcomed.

THE DECORATIONS for St. James Council Show will be like indigenous ornaments of the South Seas, so that viewers will feel transported, without transportation, to that area. Admiring a totem pole are Mmes. Ludwig, Herachler, Crampton and Gebele. Models for the show will be mothers and daughters of the council. Door prizes will be given.

Toastmistress Club Has "Wisdom" Panel

Plans for conducting a Parliamentary Institute in Gardena this year were discussed by Mrs. Patrick Ditonto, president, at the regular session of Toastmistress Club, Sept. 28, at the Western Club.

Main topic presented was "what the institute does as a community service for all clubs in the area." All club members are encouraged to attend and gain as much parliamentary knowledge as possible to assist them in their own field.

Civil Defense was also reviewed by Mrs. Thadeus Lisiecki and all persons interested are encouraged to attend the home preparedness program in the city council chambers in Gardena. For dates of meetings call DA 9-3413 or FA 1-5308.

Story teller for the day was Mrs. Frank Beilman. Mrs.

John Bero talked on education and won the speakers cup. Her subject was "Two Way Street of Evaluation."

Mrs. Harold Fonstein performed as topic mistress. Theme of the days program, "Wisdom," was defined by Mrs. William Hodges as, "Ability to judge soundly."

A panel discussion on wisdom of charm was presented by Mmes. Bero and Ditonto. Moderator was Mrs. Robert Longacre.

Presentations made for the day were: Impromptu Cup, Mrs. James Hart, and the Speakers Cup, Mrs. Bero.

Honored guests at the meeting and luncheon were the president and vice president of the Lynwood Toastmistress Club, Mmes Jo Derry and Pat Tamballeo, Hazel Yates of Torrance, and Blossom Garlow of Gardena.

The closing thought was given by Mrs. James H. All-
