Emergency Numbers Will Be Listed on Mayfair Milk Cartons Starting Monday

tainer was glass and just a plain old milk container. Then someone added a little color to the container and decided disposable cartons were a much handier idea.

Now Mayfair Creamery has come up with an even more unusual idea—they've made the carton a place on which to print important civic information.

Starting Monday, Mayfair will distribute its cartons of milk with telephone numbers of places such as hospitals, schools, police, fire departments, post offices, and so

According to C. W. "Tip" Lackey, sales manager for Mayfair, the company is also distributing aerial photograph maps of Torrance to the various city schools.

Periodically, Lackey said, the information on milk cartons will be changed and will eventually include descriptions and answers to questions about key community buildings. The part played by "blue chip" industries in the area will also be discribed on the cartons.

Rolling Hills Man Named Regional Head For Corporation, Sets Torrance Office

Group regional manager for the western region of the United States was announced today by John P. Lawler, vice president of marketing Aeronca Manufacturing Corporation.

Lawler said that Dean N Ninteman was promoted to the position effective immediately. Prior to his recent promotion, Ninteman was a corporate representative and director of technical services for Aeronca. He joined Aeronca when the firm purchased the Longren Aircraft Corpo-

In his new position, Ninteman will be responsible for the management, planning, organization, direction and control of Aeronca's Defense Products sales organization in the eleven western states. Ninteman's office will be located at 24751 S. Crenshaw Blvd. here in Torrance. Aeonca has defense divisions located in Baltimore, Maryland, and Middletown, Ohio, as well as the local division. These organizations are currently involved in research, development and production of high temperature structural components, electronics, ground support equipment, as well as other sophisticated items for the fast changing space age, Lawler said.

A native of Southern California. Ninteman was educated in that area and received his Bachelor of Science degree from USLA.
