More than 10,000 men and 150 ships, submarine and aircraft of the U.S. Navy, Royal Canadian Navy and Royal Canadian Air Force joined in the exercise, designed to strengthen combined U.S.-Canadian anti-submarine warfare capabilities and protect the large West Coast

More than 40 Navy ships and aircraft, and elements of the First Marine Division and Third Marine Aircraft Wing took part in the operation, which featured anti-submarine warfare operations, missile firing, carrier operations and an amphibious assault.

The admiral observed the at-sea phase of the exercise

It was his first opportunity to see the Pacific Fleet in action since assuming the Navy's top post last August.
