

Pension Reporting Time Ahead For State's Disabled Veterans

It's pension reporting time for 47,600 disabled veterans and the dependents of some 30,000 deceased veterans in Southern California.

Mort Webster, manager of VA's Southern California Regional Office, explained why it's also a time of complications and individual problems, most of them unnecessary.

Along with their December checks, due January 1, all VA pension recipients will receive enclosed tabulating cards. They carry the words "please do not mutilate" although several hundred will come back in unusable condition.

On these cards beneficiaries must report all outside income received during 1961 and expected in 1962. Outside income means everything, including Social Security payments, except of course the VA pension payments themselves.

NEED REPORTS

VA needs the reports to determine continued eligibility of pensioners and to make adjustments on the basis of increased or decreased outside income. One pension law cuts off payments when income of an individual, if single, exceeds $1400 a year; or $2700 if he has dependents. Another law (1960) sets limits of $1800 and $3000 but provides for adjustments on the basis of income up to these maximums.

But the really big headache isn't in making the adjustments. It's in getting those cards back from the beneficiaries.

Webster estimates that on the basis of past years, some 2,500 recipients will simply extract their checks from the envelopes and, without looking inside, throw away the enclosed tabulating card. That's no excuse, by the way.

Another 1,000 or so won't bother to fill out and return the cards because their incomes are already in excess, or will be during 1962. That's all right about 1962 but when 1961 income isn't reported VA is interested in determining just when the beneficiary's income made him ineligible and why he didn't tell VA at the time.

Her secret IS SAFE with us!

Contact lenses have come a long way since they were first introduced to the human eye. Now—so comfortable, so undetectable—contact lenses are for just about anybody: the self-conscious teen-ager, hating to admit she needs glasses... the society miss who feels that conventional glasses subtract from her youthful charm... the man or woman afflicted with forgetfulness who too often leaves their regular glasses at home. Whatever your reason for being interested, come in and see what Science has done about contact lenses to make them wonderful to wear.
