South American Missionaries to Be Featured at Lomita Church

Rev. and Mrs. Silvan Hausser, of The Missionary Church Association, who have served as missionaries in South America for 32 years, will speak at Lomita Missionary Church, at 2043 Lomita Blvd. on Jan. 14 to 17 at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. Hausser, the son of missionaries to the Kentucky mountains, is a graduate of Fort Wayne Bible College, Fort Wayne, Indiana.

Rev. and Mrs. Hausser began missionary work in Venezuela in 1929, serving with the Mid-Venezuelian Mission. In 1944 they joined the missionaries of The Missionary Church Association in the Province of Esmeraldas Ecuador, working among the Cayapa Indians who live in this small Pacific coastal area.

ORGANIZED CHURCHES
The Hausseres helped to organize three zonal churches in the coastal province despite the difficulties of travel and establishing contacts. Only approximately 100 miles of motor roads have been built out of the Provincial capital. Dugout canoes and motor boats are used to navigate the delta rivers and mountain streams. Small streamers ply along the coast.

Because of his knowledge of Latin American people and customs, Mr. Hausser was appointed mission chairman of the Province for two terms. Besides preaching, and teaching Rev. Hausser also did considerable construction work.

Mrs. Hausser taught in the Bible Institute in Esmeraldas, conducted daily vacation Bible schools, had oversight of Sunday schools, and engaged in evangelistic work in various areas of the Province.

The love and concern that the Hausseres have for the Ecuadorian people is evidenced in the fact that after these many years in South America, they expect to return to Esmeraldas in the summer of 1962 for another term of service.

The public is invited to attend this meeting.
