Study Group Leader Returns From Recent Trip Around the World

Returning recently from a tour which took her around the world, Mrs. Frances Scott has resumed her leadership of the Status of Women Study Group of the Palos Verdes-Rolling Hills branch of the American Association of University Women.

Her journeys took her to such interesting spots as Japan, Hong Kong, Manila, Saigon, Singapore, Bangkok, Cambodia, Calcutta, Benares, Kashmir, Delhi, Bombay, Cairo, Rome, Zurich and Copenhagen.

HIGHLIGHTS

Highlights of the trip were her donation of an eight-volume encyclopedia set to a school in the southern part of the Philippines; her week in Saigon where she became interested in their promotion of native crafts; visiting temples and palaces and seeing the Great Buddha in Singapore; viewing the ancient ruins of Angkor Wat in Cambodia; the side trip which she took to Agra to see the Taj Mahal; an elephant ride in Jaipur; and the celebration of her birthday in Cairo, in which she rode a camel to the famous Sphinx. Her birthday dinner was held on ex-King Farouk's yacht, which is now a floating restaurant on the Nile.

Well rested from her exciting journey, Mrs. Scott is now ready to continue the study of securities and investments which will occupy the Status of Women Study Group for the next four months.

WOOD SCARCE

U.S. visitors to European countries are surprised at the predominance of stone and masonry dwellings. Europeans use stone and brick out of necessity, not choice, for almost all softwoods like Douglas fir used in construction must be imported and are too costly for the average Continental home.

GIFT PLANTS

Christmas gift plants should be carefully watered. Most of them can be saved for the garden.
