

SEMANTICIST S. I. Hayakawa will lecture Tuesday evening, May 15, at El Camino College at 8:30 p.m. on "Our Language and Our World." The University of San Francisco professor is the author of authoritative texts in the language arts field.

Noted Semanticist Dr. S. I. Hayakawa to Speak, Tour El Camino Campus Tuesday

Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, semanticist, will lecture on "Our Language and Our World" at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday on the El Camino College campus.

Tickets are on sale in the student store with prices ranging from 50 cents for students to $1 for general admission.

Born in Vancouver, B.C., Hayakawa attended the University of Manitoba, McGill University and the University of Wisconsin, where he earned his doctorate in 1935. Hayakawa's interest in semantics, the study of words, and how they effect human behavior began in the middle 1930's.

Historically, the world was entering a trying period, with Hitler and Mussolini bombarding the world with words.

"I decided that, if by manipulating words you could drive an intelligent nation like Germany to madness, then propaganda was the most important thing you could study," the well-known semanticist said.

As founder and editor of a professional quarterly on semantics, "E.T.C.," Hayakawa explains that the E.T.C. stands for "et cetera" because words cannot describe everything, and therefore every statement should end with "Et cetera."

Two Summer Sessions to Be Offered by El Camino

To serve the community and utilize campus facilities to a maximum extent two summer sessions will be offered this year at El Camino College.

By adding a four-week post session to follow the regularly scheduled six-week summer session, the college begins for the first time in its history a year-round school program.

"Persons planning to enroll in either or both of the summer sessions should remember that these sessions concentrate in a very short period of time the equivalent of a full semester of academic work," Leo Christian, registrar, said.

The six-week session will offer both morning and evening classes with a limitation of six units of work per student. Registration is open to any person who is 18 years of age or older or who is a high school graduate.

No district requirement fee will be charged for this registration, although the cost of books and supplies must be borne by the student.

Placement tests, if required, must be completed three school days prior to ing Office beginning May 15. For students who have completed the spring semester at El Camino, registration will be conducted June 18 from 1 to 3 and 5:30 to 7 p.m. New and former students will register during the same hours of the day following, June 19. Classes begin June 20 and end August 1.

The second summer session of four weeks duration offers a schedule of morning classes only. For this session, registrants must be legal residents of the El Camino College district or Los Angeles contract area.

Requirements of age and testing are the same as those for the first session and reservations for tests may be had from the counseling office after May 15.

August 3 will be registration day; students whose last names begin from A to L will be admitted from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m. M to Z applicants register from 10 to 11 a.m.

Classes begin August 6 and end August 31. Reservations for these tests will be available in the Counsel-

Local Property Owners Should Send for Data

Owners or managers of Torrance property which they are willing to sell to the State of California for the new South Bay College are still being urged to write to: Office of the Chancellor, Trustees of California State Colleges, 2930 W. Imperial Hwy., Inglewood, California, and ask for the "Criteria for Location of New State Colleges," and Property Questionnaire," and the map titled "Primary Service Area of South Bay State College with recommended area for site location."

Residents not owning or managing property which they are willing to sell for the South Bay State College site, but believing that the State should select a particular site, should ask for the above publications, fill out the "Property Questionnaire," and send it to the Chancellor with the statement that they do not own or manage the property.

Hams Welcomed To Marina Club Monthly Meets

The Marina Amateur Radio Club of Torrance welcomes all hams to its regular monthly meeting at El Nido Park, Torrance, located just west of Hawthorne Blvd. on 182nd St. Meetings are held on the second Thursday of each month at 7:30 p.m.

Highlight of the meeting will involve preparations for the National Field Day activity to be held this year on June 23, 24 in the Palos Verdes area.

"Field Day is to the ham as sitting up exercises are to the athlete—his way of getting into shape gear-wise," says Bill Gray, WA6AWY, past president of Marina.

South High School Student Wins District Honors As President

Ramona Taylor, of Mira Costa High School, has been chosen president of the year among teen-age companies in the Junior Achievement movement in the Southwest District, according to Manny Wise, district manager.

Miss Taylor, of Manhattan Beach, is president of Marinco, counselled by Standard Oil Co. of California. She will compete among other district winners in the Los Angeles area for the prize of an all-expense JA convention trip to the University of Indiana in August.

Toni Dale, Inglewood High School, was chosen Treasurer of the Year for the Southwest District. Miss Dale, of Inglewood, is treasurer of Jetco, counselled by United Airlines. She will complete for the Los Angeles treasurer title and a free trip to Indiana.

Dan L. Ely, of South High, Torrance, was chosen Rotary winner for the district. He resides at 809 Calle Miramar.

Competition for the winning president is being handled by the Los Angeles chapter of the Young Presidents' Organization, a group limited to chief executives under 40 years of age. The treasurer competition is being judged by the local chapter of the National Association of Accountants.

The Southwest winners are leaders among more than 400 Junior Achievers who have organized and are running companies producing and selling various useful products, as they learn the American private enterprise system first-hand.

Scholastic Awards Dinner Set by North High June 6

In order to reward student general achievement as well as specific excellence, North High School is holding a Scholastic Awards Banquet June 6, according to LeRoy Steffy, assistant principal, pupil personnel.

Dr. E. V. Pullias, president of the County Board of Education and Professor of higher education at the University of Southern California, has been invited as the guest speaker for the banquet.

Dr. Mildred Walker, Director of School Relations at UCLA will present North High with the Award of Merit for the outstanding achievement of its graduates at USC.

North's student council is sponsoring the banquet, which will be held to award those students who have shown outstanding ability in a specific field in addition to general excellent achievement in all classes. All students nominated and their parents will be invited to attend the banquet. The three semi-finalists in each category will receive a Certificate of Merit. The top winner in each category will receive a 5" miniature trophy of "Sammy" Saxon.

The nominees are presently being selected by individual teachers and then will be screened by the Academic Progress Committee. The winners will be selected on their over-all grade average.

The areas from which the students will be selected are: Art, athletics, business education, drama, English, foreign language, G.A.A., graduate with highest grade point average, homemaking, industrial arts, publication, mathematics, music (band or vocal) P.E. Marymount College Wins $5000 Grant for Studies

Marymount College in Palos Verdes Estates has been named the recipient of a gift of $5000 in the form of a matching grant from the C.I.T. Foundation. It was informed by Lee R. Mosley, vice president, of Los Angeles.

L. Walter Lundell, president of the C.I.T. Financial

Corporation and its philanthropic affiliate, C.I.T. Foundation, said, "The nation must depend on the growth of smaller liberal arts colleges and universities to provide much of the education for the great wave of students who will be seeking college admissions in the future."

"An imperative local need for community aid to the smaller institutions of higher learning exists. They rely primarily on support from their immediate communities to which they make their greatest educational contributions."

The only stipulation attached to the C.I.T. award required that the grant be matched by similar contributions or pledges from local business enterprises or friends. Raymond W. Raasch, district manager of the C.I.T. in Inglewood, also was on hand when Mosley presented the $5000 check to Mother M. du Sacre Coeur, president of Marymount College.

The advisory committee which recommended the grant was composed of William K. Selden of Washington, D.C., executive secretary of the National Commission on Accrediting; Dr. Theodore A. Distler, also of Washington, executive director of the Association of American Colleges and Dr. John W. Pollard of New York City, vice president of the National Council for Financial Aid to Education.

meeting held at the Redondo Beach Elk's Club may be had by calling Doctor W. J. Labit at FR 5-3611.

Candidate Continues His Torrance Area Campaign

Ted Bruinsma, endorsed America today is hard to understand," Bruinsma said. "The people have a right to know just what position their congressman takes," he said.

In discussing Communism, Bruinsma said, "Continuance of the philosophy that we can kill Communism with kindness is now slapping back at us in Laos and the other Red hotspots around the world."

The candidate called the American program "new Frontier Family Plan—you pay and they go."

Bruinsma concluded each of his talks by saying "There is a need in the 17th Congressional District for a congressman who: first, understands the problems; second, cares for his constituents; and third, will fight for them and for the principles which made our country great."
