

I'm proud of our meat!

Ben "Pete" Duran Produce Manager at Food Giant/La Puente

Our meat not only looks delicious—it is delicious! Nothing satisfies a man-size appetite like meat — Food Giant meat! I know exactly what I want when it comes to tenderness and flavor... I'm no expert on meat, but Bill Kramer, director of our meat department is, and he takes all the guess work out of choosing meat, so that you don't have to be an expert — when you shop at Food Giant. You only have to know that you can rely on Bill, who chooses only young, tender, grain-fed beef. Careful selection is what makes the difference in the taste of all Food Giant meats. You can rely on the quality, tenderness and flavor of every piece of Food Giant meat — it's magnificent!

KING OF HEARTS—Bob Riley and Bert Malsom, two youngsters appearing in the current Hampton Players production "King of Hearts," appear to be too much for Ron Wright, one of the lead characters in the play. Production is scheduled to run through June 16.

Comedy, 'King of Hearts,' Current Hampton Play

Bright comedy, "King of Hearts," now being staged at the Hampton Theater, has several Torrance residents in its cast.

Ron Wright, who recently scored a hit in "Goodbye Charlie," and who is a favorite of local audiences, plays the part of Larry Larkin, and extremely egotistical comic strip cartoonist. He plans to honeymoon with his starry-eyed secretary Dunreath Henry, (played by Don's real life fiancée, Christine Bernard.)

They decide to hire a ghost artist to do the cartoons while they are away. Along comes Francis X. Digman, played by personable young Bob Lohbauer, who, in the course of taking over the cartoon strip, proceeds to take over Larry's girl.

To add to the hilarious antics, there is Norman, an adopted son, played by a brilliant little actor named Bob Riley. He steals scenes as he charges about, upsetting Larry's well-ordered life with Indian wiggams and smoke signals in the living room. Popping in and out at various times, the other members of the cast add their contribution to a fast-paced, well-directed show.

Larry's boss, Joe Wicks, is portrayed by Connie Giuliano, who was last seen in "White Sheep of the Family" at the Footlight Theater of Torrance. Larry Worch has the part of Mr. Hobart, Margaret Fraser is the maid Jeniella; Bert Malsom is Norman's little friend Billy, Mike the delivery boy is played by Terry O'Halloran, and the typical Irish policeman is acted by Gerry Billingham, who is also the stage manager for the show.

A huge shaggy dog called Happy is an important member of the cast, and figures prominently in the plot.

Written by Jean Kerr and Eleanor Brooks, directed by Dominica Hauser, with Dorothy Tunis as assistant director, "King of Hearts" will run weekends through June 16. The Hampton Theater is located at 100 Wall St., Redondo Beach.

Auxiliary Honored At Parish Dinner

Sisters of the Little Company of Mary Hospital are honoring the auxiliary with a dinner at the Nativity Parish Annex, in Torrance, at 8 p.m. Sunday.

Rev. Edward Boyle of the Little Company of Mary Hospital will be the guest speaker.
