Hahn Pushes To Ease Jam On Freeway

Irritating traffic jams each day on the Harbor Freeway at its junction with the Santa Monica Freeway have prompted Supervisor Kenneth Hahn to request the state to provide an engineering remedy.

Hahn noted the tie-ups caused by cars from the Santa Monica Freeway entering the southbound Harbor Freeway and quickly trying to cut across to faster lanes.

"This creates a constant bottleneck," Hahn said. "It is poor freeway design poured into concrete."

Hahn has asked state metropolitan district engineer Edward T. Telford to study the situation. The supervisor suggested that the right lane of the southbound Harbor Freeway be designated strictly for oncoming Santa Monica Freeway traffic.

Telford has responded to Hahn by saying that this suggestion seems appropriate.

The Men Take Over PTA At the Victor Street School

The men took over May 15 at the Victor Street School in Torrance when PTA installation ceremonies filled three of their executive offices with men.

Principal B. J. Vassar and Vice Principal E. J. Richardson announce that newly elected Victor PTA president Steward H. Kulp is a retired Air Force officer who now teaches guidance test courses for the California State Department of Employment in Los Angeles. This is Kulp's first PTA experience. His wife, Marie, is president of the Victor Woman's Club.

Harvey Horwich, first vice president, operates a printing business. He aided the PTA board at Victor last year.

Ralph D. Gerardot, second vice president, is associated with a bearing specialties firm and that his department is studying the Harbor-Santa Monica interchange "with a view to making some modifications and adjustments."

company here. He is formerly of Fort Wayne, Ind., where he served as president of the Lakeside Junior High School.

Mrs. William C. Evans, third vice-president, won't feel too lost though serving on an executive committee as the only woman since she recently served a number of years as publicity director of the El Segundo Chamber of Commerce, where she also acted as secretary for the Chamber's board meetings. Her husband, Bill, is associated with a prominent real estate firm in Torrance.

Treasurer for the new Victor PTA board is C. P. (Chris) Eliopulas.

Retiring PTA president at Victor is Robert J. (Bob) Trost. He took over the office upon a resignation near the opening of school last September. He will serve as parliamentarian for Kulp.

Trost reports there were four men on his board last year.
