Motorcycle Aces Clash In U.S. Meet

It'll be West vs East tomorrow night at Ascot Park, Gardena, when the swiftest motorcycle racers of the country rub handlebars in J. C. Agajian's fifth annual 8-mile championship of the American Motorcycle Assn.

Qualifying time trials for Expert and Amateur riders are slated tonight along with a complete program for Novice contestants.

Ronnie Rall of Mansfield, Ohio, winner of the 15-mile and 10-mile national races at Pittsburgh, Pa., and Columbus, Ohio, recently, will lead the invading riders.

Rall, king of eastern dirt track riders, is tied for first place with Ralph White of San Diego for the Grand National championship at 49 points apiece. White, in the field this week, scored heavily by winning the Daytona 200-miler, motorcycle racing's counterpart to the Indianapolis 500.

Also coming to Ascot are Bart Markel of Flint, Mich., defending national champion; George Roeder, Monroeville, Ohio, and Tony Murguia, Key West, Fla.

Markel has recovered from injuries suffered earlier this season in a spill at Ionia, Mich.

Lining up against the invaders will be the winners of Agajian's previous 8-mile finals — Sammy Tanner of Bellflower, 1959; Al Gunter of Alhambra, 1960 and 1962, and Neil Keen of Pasadena, 1961.

Jack O'Brien, Santa Monica; White, San Diego; Elliott Schultz and Roger Reim, South Gate; Dick Hammer, Lakewood; Stu Morley, Toppanga; and Don Hawley, Inglewood, are other national contenders from the Southland.

As well as the West vs East man to man battle, the nationals feature a battle of machinery between America and Great Britain.
