Dickinson, secretary, and Grace Edwards, president. The association's first major activity of the year was a dinner honoring new members last Sunday evening.

MOOSE HEAD DONORS HONORED AT DINNER

Donors that subscribed to a fund to obtain a new Moose head for display in the Torrance Moose Home will be honored guests at ceremonies on Saturday, Sept. 21, dedicating the new emblem from which the Loyal Order Of Moose takes its name, according to an announcement by James H. Johnston, past governor of Torrance Moose and Moose Emblem chairman.

The Loyal Order Of Moose headed by Governor Joseph W. Marley and the Women Of The Moose headed by Senior Regent Lorraine Walker will join together for a gala evening of dining and dancing along with the dedication ceremonies. All Moose members are urged to bring their friends. The evenings program will consist of a chicken dinner prepared by Moose Lodge chef, Past Governor Dan Hutchinson, working in conjunction with dinner chairman Art Galinsky. Dinner will be served from 6 p.m. The dedication ceremonies will be at 7:30 p.m. Dancing will begin at 9 p.m. according to dance chairman Robert Fryer with "Danceable Music for All the Family" furnished by Vi and the Three J's.

The Moose head measures forty-eight inches from tip to tip.

Earthquake Expert Suggests Community Education Program

Several suggestions for the community to follow in gearing for a possible earthquake have been forwarded to Supervisor Kenneth Hahn by Dr. Charles Richter of Cal Tech, one of the world's outstanding earthquake experts.

Responding to Hahn's request to advise the County Civil Defense Commission in developing an educational program to tell persons what to do in the event of an earth tremor, Dr. Richter wrote:

"Community action should be directed to removal of risks. Old and unsafe building, public and private, should be reinforced or replaced.

Toll Buildings
"Authorities should exercise great caution in permitting the location of very tall buildings; they should not be placed where they add to risk by increasing traffic congestion, nor on unconsolidated ground where the risk of severe shaking is highest," Dr. Richter said.

Dr. Richter agreed with Supervisor Hahn that "an unsensational program of public information is much needed" regarding earthquakes.

He recognized the possibility of dangerous earthquakes in Southern California.

Citing the disastrous 1933 quake in Long Beach, Dr.

Richter said the same geological conditions which caused that quake occur in, or near, Southern California every two or three years.

"It's our good fortune that most of these center in thinly populated areas; it's our misfortune that sometimes, as in 1933, one affects a thickly settled districts," he said.

Active Faults
Dr. Richter explained that active faults are distributed over the whole Southern California region, and "there is no settled community in California which is not more or less exposed to such risk."

The risk varies, he said, chiefly with the foundation, being least on sound rock.

Dr. Richter informed Hahn that after the earth starts shaking, an individual can do little. "It's easier to suggest what not to do," he said.

"As in all disasters—don't panic, don't run, don't congest the streets and roads, with cars, keep away from disaster areas unless on relief business, don't make unnecessary telephone calls, don't repeat alarming stories even if they seem to come from a reliable source."

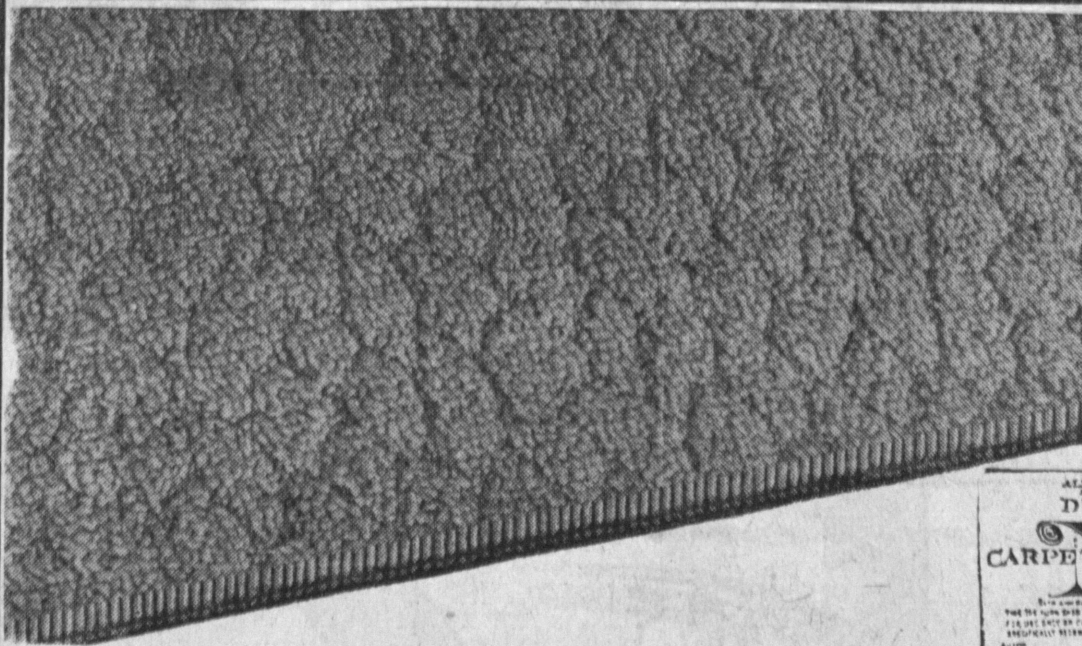

Supervisor Hahn has asked the County Civil Defense Commission to use Dr. Richter's suggestions and advice as the basis for its educational program.
