County Savings Bond Sales on Upward Trend

"Los Angeles County residents strengthened support of the U. S. Savings Bonds program during November by purchasing $10,361,836 worth of the Series E and Series H," State Savings Bonds Chairman R. H. Moulton reported here recently.

Steady Upswing
"This brings total County sales for the first eleven months of 1963 up to $134,235,121," the chairman said when noting, "there has been steady upswing both locally and nationally in Savings Bonds sales during the year."

In the eleven Southern California Counties, sales for November continued the upward trend started last January. The amount was $13,760,578, boosting the total 1963 sales in the Southland to $177,673,737, up 7.1 per cent over sales for the same period last year.

"The citizens of Los Angeles county," the chairman continued, "own a substantial share of national Savings Bonds holdings which are at an all-time high of $47 billion as compared with approximately $30 billion at the end of World War II."
