 cobar or narcotics, Martin and he radioed for help. Brady and Watts responded to the call.

During a search of the car, the officers found two pink pills which appeared to be narcotic or dangerous drug. The pills were placed on the hood of the car driven by Martin while officers decided whose unit would be used to transport the prisoners.

Brady and Watts took the girl in their unit, and Martin took Smith to the station. The girl was placed alone in the back seat of the car—a violation of police procedure—and subsequently fell or was retrained during an escape try.

THE WATCH sergeant reprimanded the three officers after learning of the commotion involving the girl. The girl was not injured, Koenig said.

During the booking procedure, the officers discovered they had forgotten, and lost, the pills. Rather than face the watch sergeant again, the trio agreed to substitute similar pills for the lost evidence.

The district attorney refused to issue a complaint against Smith and the girl, citing lack of evidence. Smith, however, was being sought on an outstanding traffic warrant, and during his re-booking he saw the pills

A total of 12,900 hourly employees throughout the company were awarded the pay boost as a result of an increase in the Bureau of Labor Statistics' national cost-of-living index. The 1-cent raise adds approximately $573,600 to the annual company-wide payroll. Under terms of union contracts, 27,500 hourly employees at the Douglas Aircraft Division in Long Beach are now receiving larger paychecks as a result of a 1-cent-an-hour cost of living pay hike.
