New Drill Team Now Marching

A new sound is being heard at South High this semester—one that other Torrance high schools also are hearing on their campuses.
The sound is familiar to all those who watch parades or have been in the armed services—those of the Spartanettes marching.
The Spartanettes are a group of 50 girls organized into a drill team through one of the physical education classes. They began drilling during summer school and have continued daily exercises since school re-opened.

THE DRILL team, approved by the Board of Education last spring, will perform at home football games this fall. The Spartanettes made their first game appearance Friday when South hosted Fernin Lasuen.
Wearing uniforms of the Spartan green and white, the drill team performed Sept. 18 at the stadium dedication ceremonies. Patty Turner and Pam Betus are student leaders as the drill team goes through its routine.
Mrs. Nina Murray, a physical education instructor, is advisor and faculty director for the Spartanettes.
The drill team takes its place along side the South High Marching Band, the cheerleaders, majorettes, and song queens as another element of the South pep squad.

Other new instructors are: Daniel R. Rameta, Miss Miriam H. Pearce, Mrs. Cynthia Bernard, Mrs. Dorothy Lamb, Robert Tabing, Miss Marilyn Cohn, Miss Beverly Quon-Woo, Mrs. Lenore H. Eisenstein, Richard F. Bernard, Mrs. JoRae Zuckerman and Miss Nance O'Neill.

Carson Coed Scores High In Contest

Sondra Tamasy, B12, placed 21st out of 6,000 participating students in the Herald-Examiner's American history contest late last semester at Los Angeles Junior High School.
Four other Carson students received honorable mention certificates "for outstanding ability and performance." They were Linda Morris, Elvin Hoel, Steve Covington, and Robert Jones. All are B12's.

Sondra, winner of a National Science Foundation grant for summer study, received $10 for her performance against students from all parts of Southern California.
The contest, which began 22 years ago, has grown from 250 participating students to the 6,000 who took it this year.
Miss Elizabeth Hunter, Carson U.S. History teacher, coached the Carson entrants daily during their lunch hour. Ten students from Carson took the test.

Church Guild Sets October Guest Month

The Woman's Society of Christian Service has designated October as guest month.
Each member is requested to bring a guest interested in the group's work to the Oct. 15 meeting, which will begin at 11:45.
The speaker at the meeting will be Mrs. Catherine Armstrong, who will discuss "Highlights of My Trip to the U.S."
The Miriam Circle, with Mrs. Fred Peak as chairman, is in charge of the luncheon. Babysitting will be provided at the church.

BIRTHDAY PARTY . . . Celebration of the fifth birthday of Sears Torrance last week was highlighted for many employees when they were awarded five-year service pins. Leonard Gross here steps up to receive pin from John Lowe, who was manager of the store at its opening and now is retail manager for Sears, Los Angeles. Others from left are Dorothy Johnson, Manager George Gaugler, and Kenneth O'Dell of the Torrance store. More than 70 employees received five-year pins.

JEFF COBB

Comic strip 'JEFF COBB' by Pete Hoffman. The story follows a reporter named Jeff Cobb who is investigating a murder. He interviews a woman who says she saw a man throw a pistol into a pool. He then interviews a police officer who says the man is missing. The officer shows him a note with a name 'Earl Monto'. Jeff then interviews another officer who says the man is obviously crazy. The story continues with Jeff finding a murdered woman in a hotel room and a cartridge in a cylinder.

RED RYDER

Comic strip 'RED RYDER' by Fred Harman. The story follows a cowboy named Red Ryder who is riding through a field. He is talking to a woman who says she is looking for a horse. Red then finds a horse and says it is a good year for grass. He then sees a grizzly bear and says he will kill it. The story ends with Red riding away.
