Catholic Nuptials Link Sheets-Marsden Names

At an 11 o'clock nuptial mass and ceremony last month at the St. Catherine Laboure Church, Miss Toni Sheets, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louie O. Sheets, 2601 W. 168th St., Torrance became the bride of David G. Marsden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Marsden, 5201 Arvada, Torrance.

The bevy of bridesmaids, Misses Sandra Peterson, Susan Bredman, Elizabeth Shimochi, Mary Marsden, and Barbara Woodruff, all wearing yellow shantung gowns and carrying yellow carnations, entered the church, followed by the bride's sister, Mrs. William Ginder, Jr., as matron of honor. She also wore yellow shantung and carried yellow and white roses.

Then came the bride on the arm of her father. Her gown was of white silk organza over taffeta, detailed with a scoop neckline edged with jeweled medallions, and long pointed sleeves. The full skirt draped into a chapel train. Tulle leaves around a white organza rose held her veil. White orchids and roses formed the bridal bouquet.

Best man duties were performed by John Marsden and ushers were William Shenkei, Dan Laskowitz, John Sibley, Dan Agnew and Phil Cobb.

Rev. Frank Inuhr celebrated the mass and conducted the vow exchange. Mrs. Mary Hanf played the wedding music.

Newlyweds were greeted by the 200 guests at a reception at the Torrance Women's Club.
