About Cars and Things by Ray Vane

Should I buy a '65 car on a cleanup sale, or wait for a '66 model? Good question. The answer isn't easy. But there are some answers. We say that if you keep a car 2 1/2 to 3 years or longer, you have substantial savings by buying now at cleanup price. Here is how we reason:

A certain amount of discounting or over-allowance on trade-ins goes on all year. So what you save on a '65 now is not the difference between sticker price and year-end sale price, but the difference between what you would pay now, and say, a few months from now on an identical '66 car.

There is a significant saving on the new car price itself, we figure at least $200 on our lowest priced cars to $1,000 or more on our highest priced cars. On top of that, you will have sharp seasonal depreciation on your trade-in this fall. Could be anything from nothing on an older car, to $300 or $400 on a car 3 years old.

Now you know that the older a car gets, the less it is worth—sad but true. Right now, if you were trading in a typical "Big Three" 1960 model, it would be worth about $150 more than a similar 1959 model. A 1961 model about $150 more than a 1960. A 1962, $225 more than a 1961. But, a 1963 would bring $425 more than a 1962, and a 1964, $775 more than a 1963.

So you see, all other things being equal you would save more by buying a '65 than you would lose on trade-in, if you plan to keep the car three (3) years or longer. If you keep a car only a year or two—wait for a '66.

The other things to consider are mileage and payments. Don't drive the car so many miles that it needs a lot of expensive reconditioning. Some people are harder on cars than others. Trade before you need upholstery replaced, paint, etc. Trade it while it is still nice.

If you are a payment buyer, don't keep the car too long. Payments then, could be too high for you to make a trade. Then, too, don't forget you may need repairs if you wait.

Does this answer your question? Stop in and see us and we'll talk about your own situation.

We still have a goodly number of '65 models—Valiant - Chrysler - Imperial - Plymouth. Maybe the one you want.

Where? 2909 Pacific Coast Hwy., Torrance. Or phone... 326-0873.
