

Hunting, Fishing Looks Promising

Looking ahead to 1966, the Department of Fish and Game this week predicted Southern California sportsmen should find both hunting and fishing good to excellent in the new year.

Welcome rains in the past few months will contribute to improved conditions for fish and wildlife, but more rainfall and a mild winter are necessary for maximum benefits.

Nimrods face excellent prospects for upland game hunting next year. Such species as quail, chukar and rabbits, with their high rate of reproduction, should take advantage of the recent wet weather and appear in good numbers for next fall's hunting season.

Despite a fair to good harvest of upland game this year, there seems to be an excellent breeding stock for 1966. The next few months are critical, however, and more rains are needed in March to bring out the annual seed-producing plants.

A severe winter, with heavy snows and a general freeze, could cause a heavy loss of game animals, especially the smaller species.

Survival of deer would be helped by more rains or hurt by a frigid, rough winter. Mild weather and favorable rains would improve forage, help make next year's hunting crop sleek and healthy, and brighten the outlook for future years.

Fishing has been generally good this past year but could be even better in 1966, especially for trout.

Rainfall toward the end of 1965 has exceeded expectations, and with a normal amount of rain early in 1966 Southland lakes and streams should be in great shape for spring fishing.

Reservoirs like Casitas, Cachuma, Piru and Big Bear would benefit from higher water levels, providing more productive area for fish to grow in and encouraging good year classes.

Improved water flows would benefit trout fishing, especially in streams Trout streams which are normally good in the spring and early summer would remain good longer, and some marginal streams which have been fishable only for short times or not at all in recent years could provide a great amount of additional fishing in 1966.

This will probably be the year of decision for the striped bass experiment in the Colorado River. Good-sized, healthy striper have been caught in the Imperial Dam-Palo Verde Weir area and from Lake Havasu north to Davis Dam. This is encouraging, but the big question is whether these fish are spawning successfully in the river.

There have been indications of some successful spawning but nothing conclusive.

Southland sportsmen are advised to keep their guns oiled, their fishing tackle in good shape, and their fingers crossed.

City Basketball Play Begins in Torrance

More than 1,200 Torrance boys are expected to open the 1966 recreation department youth basketball program next week.

League play for boys in Skyline (5th and 6th grades) and Rocky Mountain (7th and 8th grades) will be conducted during January and February beginning Saturday at the four gyms. Hours of play are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Eight weeks of Big Ten play for high school boys will be held between 6 and 9:30 p.m., beginning Monday evening at Torrance High, Tuesday evening at West High Wednesday evening at North and South High, and Thursday evening again at South High.

Gymnasium locations are as follows: North High School, 3620 W. 182nd St.; South High School, 4801 Pacific Coast Hwy.; Torrance High School, 2200 Carson St., and West High School, 20401 Victor St.

Deep Snow Reported

Snow depth has soared to a 5-8-ft. packed base and June Mountain skiing conditions for the week are ideal. All runs from the top of June's 10,212-foot peak are open and deep powder skiers can find plenty of their kind of snow in little used tree-lined areas.
